Twelve Issues Being Tackled By UN Assembly

"Deck Clearing" Operation
Is Being Attempted By General Assembly

EXPECT HEATED CLASHES TO OCCUR

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOWS,
N. Y., Oct. 31.—The United Nations General Assembly today begins a two-day
"deck clearing" operation
by tackling twelve international issues recommended to it by various UN committees.

The thousand delegates from 57 countries are agreed, however, to circumvent the deadlock at this plenary session by a vote of 10-0 to elect a successor to Poland for the 1948 Security Council.
A survey disclosed that there is no swing either in favor of India or the Ukraine, the two rival candidates.

Heated Clashes Loom
A heated clash between the Soviet bloc and the western group of nations seems certain today over the issue of war criminals.

Andrei Vishinsky, leader of the Russian delegation, may raise anew the violent charges made in the legal committee that the United States and Britain are reluctant or slack in handing over war criminals, traitors and Quis-lings now held in countries like Italy, Austria, Germany and England.

The legal committee defeated Yugoslavia's proposals. It for-

Pa Newc Observes

Tonight is halloween, and police will be on the alert throughout the city to prevent vandalism, and other conduct that does not harmonize with the spirit of harmless fun, Pa Newc is informed.

New Castle's new bicycle law will become effective on Saturday, owners of bicycles in the city are reminded.

Mrs. Clarence Brunswick, R. D.
1, Wampum, called Pa Newc to inform him of the beautiful blue bush in bloom in her yard. This is the first time that the nine-year-old bush has ever bloomed this late in the season. The bush is in full bloom and presents a lovely sight, Mrs.
Brunswick stated.

Pa Newc reminds motorists that Saturday opens up another inspection period for automobiles. It would be wise to avoid that last minute rush and get the car inspected early in the period.

Dear Pa Newc: We are constant readers of your paper, even if we have moved out of Lawrence county. We want to tell you about the flowers which have come on since the freeze. We had two blue blossoms (white), some petunias and now the monthly roses are in bud again along with some other small flowers. The sweet peas (hardy) will bloom if break does not come too soon. Strawberries are bearing now and are in all stages from blossoms to ripe berries. We have another rather unique thing in our Dr. Van Fleet rose bush which bore all summer and right along with the freeze. Mr. and Mrs.
George McAnis, New Galilee, Pa.

John Wilson, R. D. 6, brought to The News this morning a "ladies free" admission ticket to Allen's Opera House in New Castle, dated November 15, 1887, that he had found in his home when tearing out an old clothes cupboard. The ticket was admission to the Thom-

Student Driver Gets Wrong Steer

Here is one instance where a student driver could do without a guide. It seems that Miss Ruth Allen, Vineville, Ga., school principal, hired an instructor to teach her how to run a new car. The result was the freak accident pictured above. The auto tangled with the guide wire of a power line pole and is shown suspended in air.

Holy Name Rally Thursday Night

Large Crowd Hears David
M. Martin Of Pittsburgh Speak On "Christian Men"

MEMORIAL MASS

With the Catholic Center filled to capacity, the fall Holy Name rally of St. Mary's church, got underway, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, with John J. Maher, president, presiding, at which time the men heard, David M. Martin, of Pittsburgh, of the executive committee of the St. Vincent de Paul Institute.

Inspiring Address
Mr. Martin, is a prominent layman, interested in Catholic activities, and he delivered an interesting and inspiring lecture to the members beseeching them to teach the world by their good example what it means to be a Holy Name man.

The subject of his lecture was
"The Need of Christian Men in the World Today." Show the world that you are Christians, he said by the love which you show your fellow man. Be active in the affairs of your community, ever following the example of Jesus Christ who spent His life here on earth by doing good to all. See in all men, regardless of the creed and color the image of God His maker. You will find many like yourselves who are striving to make this world a better place in which to live by following the Golden Rule of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you.

Police To Patrol All Parts Of City For Halloween

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna today announced that police in plainclothes, in their own cars, and other police in uniform in city cars would patrol the city tonight to minimize vandalism, committed in the guise of halloween pranks. In addition there will be police in plainclothes in various districts.
"Young folk have been very good, so far," the chief stated today, "and I ask them to 'lay off' pranks which cause damage or are apt to cause injury to persons or property. It is so much nicer to do this than to commit some act that causes grief and demands the guilty person's presence before police."

First Methodist Y.F. To Mask For Party

When a group of young people like Andy Dadds, Miss Martha Bigley, Ralph Reed, DeLace Cole and others get together and decide to give a halloween party for the young people of First Methodist church, it is sure to be a superlative affair.
The young people are to meet at the church at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, November 1.

Allege Russian Attempts To Get A-Bomb Secrets

Testimony Presented Before House Un-American Activities Committee

HEARINGS ENDED
FOR PRESENT TIME

By RAYMOND D. WILCOVE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Alleged Russian attempts to spy out America's atom bomb secrets made public in testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee were disclosed today to have been under Justice Department scrutiny for more than a year.

The department refused to make any comment, however, a spokesman explaining that "you can understand our position: this is a pretty delicate matter."

A committee source revealed that the Federal Bureau of Investigation turned the matter over to Attorney General Clark after a thorough probe. The FBI was non-committal.

Secretary Krug Resting Quietly

Secretary Of Interior Suffers Collapse Following Address At Phoenix, Ariz.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Secretary of Interior J. A.
Krug rested quietly today following his collapse yesterday while making an address before the National Reclamation association convention.

Doctors diagnosed the cabinet official's illness as "fatigue" and recommended a long rest.
An official of the association read the remainder of Krug's address to the convention.
Krug's address unfolded plans of the reclamation bureau for spending $2,148,000,000 in placing four million acres of farm land under irrigation by 1954.

Find Wreckage Of Plane In Alaska

(BULLETIN)

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Oct. 31.— (INS)—Wreckage of the Pan American World Airways Clipper "Talisman" missing with 18 persons aboard on a flight from Seattle to Juneau last Sunday was found today smashed against the north side of Tanager mountain, 6 1/2 miles east of the Annette Island landing field.
Pan American had no further word as to whether there were any survivors.

Premier Ramadier Wins Confidence Vote

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier's middle-of-the-road cabinet won a vote of confidence by 20 votes Thursday night after two days of oratorical at-
De Gaulle's of the right.
The official vote of the National Assembly was 300 in favor, 290 against, 18 abstentions and 20 absences.

Notable State Grange Sessions Are Concluded

Pennsylvania Grangers closed their 75th annual state convention Thursday night in the Cathedral, after a three day session. The closing marked the completion of one of the most successful meets ever held by the organization, one that marked a new high for the initiation of candidates into the sixth degree. A recount late Thursday showed 3008 had been initiated, an increase over the 2962 first reported.

In the action on the report of the resolution committee on Thursday the Grangers made several significant recommendations. The Marshall plan for aid to Europe was approved and the continuance of the shipments of food to

Boost Chest Fund To $84,378 At Noon Today

Seven Of Divisions Have Gone "Over The Top"
On Their Quota

NEED $17,721 TO REACH DRIVE GOAL
(BULLETIN)

Community Chest division leaders reported a gain of $8,972.20 today at their noon meeting in The Castleton hotel. This places the grand total at $84,378.05 so far in the campaign and leaves $17,721.95 yet to be pledged and reported.

General chairman George F.
Winter, Jr. congratulated seven of the division leaders for going over the top in the effort. They were presented Community Chest
"Oscars" for reaching their quotas.
They were: Robert L. Meernants, Arthur Meek, barbers; Robert Strickler, printing; Allan Barnett, beauty parlors; Irvin Robins, furniture; Samuel Mooney, construction; and Mrs. L. B. Calvin, second ward, residential division.

It was announced that the campaign would be extended for one week, in which period it is hoped that the goal will be reached.

Patricia Schmidt's Trial Is Resumed

HAVANA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Patricia Schmidt, well-rested and four pounds heavier than she was when her murder trial was recessed 11 days ago, wants a speedup in court sessions which resume today.

When court convenes doctors and ballistics experts are expected to pick up the story of Patricia's tropical love affair with John L.
Mee, which ended in death for the Chicago lawyer-poet on his yacht last April 8.

The little fellow was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital and admitted for treatment at 9 p. m.

Local Elections Will Feature Tuesday Voting

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)— Strict party balloting was anticipated today in Tuesday's general election, but political chiefs claim that the election will be a free one, with no indication of what to expect from Pennsylvania in next year's presidential balloting.

The polls will open at seven a.
m. and close 1 1/2 hours later, according to the state elections bureau.

To Elect State Judge

While municipal interest will be sparked by local contests, the election of a State Superior Court Judge will highlight the election.
The Republican organization has endorsed Judge John S. Fine of Nanticoke, appointed to the Appelate court June 17 by Gov. James H. Duff for a full 10-year term.
The Democratic party has thrown its support to Cambria county Judge Ivan J. McKenrick, of Ebensburg.

Huge Crowd Sees Mummers Parade In South Side Area

Halloween Celebration
Thursday Night Draws
Thousands To Area

WEATHER AIDS IN PARADE SUCCESS

Undoubtedly there were some people in New Castle who did not attend the halloween celebration in the South Side Thursday night.
In the group would be night watchmen, folks who go to bed early and those who do not believe in hobgoblins. But the rest of the city seemed to be there.

From Pennsylvania avenue down Long to Moravia, from Long up Mill to Home, from Mill down Home to Moravia and from Home down Moravia to Long avenue, there seemed to be not an inch of space that wasn't occupied. This in addition to the hundreds that had birds eye views from windows.

Weather Perfect
For the halloween celebration, sponsored by the South Side Board of Trade, the weather was a little bit of all right. Not too cool, but comfortable. And of course the kids responded by the hundreds. Everything from a ballerina to a zombie was in line, singles, couples, and groups, all of them with a distinctive touch to their costumes and all of them having fun.

The parade moved out at 8 p. m.
from Pennsylvania avenue, with Grand Marshal Edward A. DeCarbo and his aides handling five divisions. The Senior high school band, the Franklin, the Washington, the Croton and the Red Coat, each of them headed a division.

Manila Bracing Against Typhoon

MANILA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Manila braced itself for a typhoon which may strike the metropolitan area late today after ripping through the central Philippines.

All police and relief agencies in the Philippine capital and its environments were alerted for emergency action.

The typhoon, dubbed Kathy in the traditional manner of naming storms after women, was moving in a north-northwesterly direction after whirling across the islands of Samar, Leyte and Masbate.

First reports from Manila this afternoon regarding the havoc wrought by the typhoon which brought winds attaining a velocity of 85 miles an hour.

Housing Expediter Creedon Resigns

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—
The White House announced today the resignation of Housing Ex-pediter Frank R. Creedon, who will devote his time to development of atomic energy with a large industrial firm.

President Truman accepted the resignation, but did not announce any successor to Creedon as housing expediter.
Creedon told the President he was resigning to go with a private industrial concern which is undertaking a huge development of atomic energy.

Wins First Prize In Halloween Parade

This really isn't Kilroy, although in the South Side Halloween parade Thursday night he masqueraded as Kilroy and won first prize.
man W. F. De Carbo, and Maurice Samuels, chairman of the prize committee, handing "Kilroy" the $30 prize money.

Joint Funeral Is Report Palace Is Being Arranged Fired By Moslems For Plane Victims

NEW DELHI, Oct. 31.—(INS)—
The Maharajah of Kashmir's luxurious winter palace at Gulmarg today was reported burned by Moslem tribesmen who captured the mountain-town and nearby Baramula in their sweep toward Spina-gar, capital of the princely state.

Latest dispatches said part of the 10,000 Moslem army which had fought to within ten miles of Spina-gar was forced into an eight-mile retreat by machine-gunning Indian planes and counter-attacking Sikh troops.

The Moslems descended on the maharajah's palace at Gulmarg, 30 miles from the capital, after capturing Bara-mula.

Bara-mula, 35 miles northwest of Spingarg, stands on the edge of a gorge which opens into the 60-mile wide valley in which the capital of the Hindu-ruled state is located.

Report Confession In Wife Slaying Over Six Years Ago

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Murder charges were expected to be filed today against white-haired, overall-clad rancher Junia W. Vandervoort, 61, who yesterday admitted he fatally shot his second wife, Lois, six years ago.

In announcing he would file the charges, District Attorney Irl
Ford of Colorado Springs said Vandervoort would re-enact the murder which occurred Sept. 11, 1941, on Vandervoort's ranch 18 miles east of Colorado Springs.

Had Denied Charges
El Paso County Sheriff Ray Slocum said Vandervoort admitted in writing yesterday that he shot and killed his wife as she fled in terror from their home, following a quarrel.

Previously Vandervoort denied the charge.
The sheriff said Vandervoort was acquitted in 1911 in a Caldwell, Kan., court for fatally shooting his first wife, Cora, in Wellington, Kan., after contending he had mistaken her for a burglar.

Unions To Battle For Phone Workers

CIO, AFL and Independent unions today plunged full tilt into what may be a protracted and bitter fight to represent the nation's telephone workers.

The Independent Communication Workers of America, which claims to represent 238,000 phone employees, announced an organizing drive beginning Nov. 3 to enroll AT&T and Western Electric Workers now represented by CIO affiliates.

At the same time, the CIO telephone workers organizing com-tee—formed last summer—disclosed plans for a country-wide campaign for new members. It now claims 51,000 members.

Governor Duff Rescinds Ban This Afternoon

Authorizes Hunting Season
To Open On Saturday
As Scheduled

RAINS HAVE EASED
STATE FIRE DANGER

(BULLETIN)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.— (INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today lifted the five-day "no trespassing" ban on state forests and authorized hunting season to open tomorrow on schedule.

"Rainfall generally throughout the commonwealth for the past four days has minimized the pressing danger of forest fires and consequently ended the hazards incident to the use of forests and gamelands," the governor explained.

More than 15,000,000 acres of forest land were affected by the order.

Tinder-dry state parks, game preserves, and forests were closed Monday at 12:01 a. m. by an executive proclamation.

Since rain has fallen intermittently eliminating fire hazards.
The order rescinding the "notrespassing" ban was prepared by Duff before he left for Pittsburgh last night.

Second Big Boston Payroll Holdup Nets Armed Thugs $29,000

American Sugar Refinery Robbed
By Four Men Today. Make Getaway

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Gunmen struck again today in Boston when four masked bandits escaped with a $29,000 payroll from the American Sugar Refining Company plant in South Boston.

The four men, their faces masked by hoods, walked into the main office of the plant, grabbed the cash, and then ran to a waiting new black sedan. The car then sped across Congress street bridge toward downtown Boston.
Yesterday six gunmen escaped with a payroll of $109,000 from the Sturtevant Blower Works in Hyde Park. Police working on this holdup were proceeding on the possibility that it was "fingered" from within.

THREE ARE PLEDGED LEWISBURG, Oct. 31.—Three students from New Castle have been pledged to social fraternities and sororities at Bucknell uni- versity.

They are: Arlene L. Blank of 115 Park avenue, Alpha Chi Omega; Harvey H. Bush of 231
Hillcrest avenue, Phi Gamma Delta, and Ann L. Cooper of 322
Hillcrest avenue, Pi Beta Phi.
Miss Blank is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Blank;
Bush is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Harvey B. Bush; and Miss Cooper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Ralph A. Cooper.

WALLACE VISITS POPE
ROME, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Pope Pius received former Vice President Henry A. Wallace in private audience today. Wallace recently arrived in Rome after a tour of Palestine.

KILLED BY TRAIN
SHARON, Pa., Oct. 31.—(INS)— Harry Locke, 40, of Greenville, was killed instantly today when an Erie railroad passenger train hit his truck on a crossing at Kennard.

Arthur Mometer

Across the moonplanned midnight sky, if you will look tonight, that is if you are yet awake, you'll see an eerie sight. You'll see some witches in tall hats, up where there's lots of room, a-riding by, not on a horse, but on a kitchen broom. Their hair will be, oh very long, and hanging down in streaks, and now and then, just listen close,
you'll hear some fearsome shrieks.
They are a sight for you to see, their streaked hair tinged with gray, they have no teeth, these midnight gals, it's fifty-six today.

Declares New State Law Will Prevent Tax Discrimination

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—State Sen. John W. Lord said today his community property law will protect Pennsylvanians from "unjust and inequitable discrimination" in the application of the federal income tax law.

Lord's measure, passed by the 1947 session of the state legislature, has set off a sharp controversy throughout Pennsylvania.

The state supreme court has assumed original jurisdiction in a case brought by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company testing validity of the law.

The high tribunal will hear argument in the case Nov. 10 in Philadelphia.

Lord said that although community property legislation is "entirely new" in Pennsylvania, "the principles of the community property system have been interpreted and defined by decisions of courts of other states."

"Our law was adopted," he said, "after a review of these decisions and the laws of other community property states."

Hall left a sick bed at his home in Philadelphia to take the oath of office as governor in the executive office at Salem.

While 40 witnesses watched, the oath was administered by Jay Bowman, former law partner of Hall, who himself ascended from president of the Senate to governor 37 years ago.

The bodies were taken to Klamath Falls from the woods in which they died. Portland undertakers will take charge of the bodies of Snell and Farrell, but Mrs. Cornett said her husband's body eventually would be returned to Burning Springs, Ky., where his parents live.

Local flyers expressed belief that carburetor icing may have caused the crash. Several persons who heard the plane before it was lost said the engine was missing.

Europe urged. In the matter of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway, the State Grange urged that definite action upon this be postponed until a series of flood prevention dams and a soil conservation program in the United States had been completed. Price controls, but not to stringent, were recommended.

New Officers

Three vacancies in the official family were filled. Rev. Earl Kerster, of Columbia county, was named state chaplain. John H. Light was named a member of the executive committee and Richard Burroughs of Chester county named to the finance committee. The new officers were inducted on Thursday night by Past State Master J. Audley Book.

Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst was the principal speaker Thursday. He told of the state's program in pest control for plants of the animal husbandry campaign and the work of the department of agriculture in general.

The closing speakers were Past State Masters J. Audley Book and Kenzie S. Bagshaw. They expressed their pleasure at the successful convention and spoke of the coming national convention in Columbus in mid-November.

Over 4000 Pennsylvania Grangers will take the 7th and last degree and the total expected to take it will reach approximately 20,000 it is thought.

Appreciation

Pomona Master William H. McCullough who had general charge of the convention and General Chairman Glenn Patterson today expressed their appreciation for the many courtesies extended the convention committee and guests.

"The Greater New Castle Association and particularly Mrs. Inez Patton did a remarkable job in housing," said Mr. McCullough. "Without the fine work of the GNCA, our housing problem would have been a difficult one. The GNCA did the job and did it exceptionally well."

Mr. McCullough also expressed his thanks to the various committees of the convention, to the New Castle News, and to the men of the Cathedral for co-operation.

In all, there were 3375 registrations at the convention and this did not include about 500 on the last day who failed to get registered. The 75th Diamond Jubilee convention was a tremendous success, possibly the most successful ever held by the Pennsylvania State Grange.

PRINTER'S INK FOR BLOOD

ILLIOPOLIS, Ill.—(INS)—Editing and publishing three newspapers is no small task but 80-year-old John W. Bailey does it and remarks, "I'm going to stay at it as long as I'm able." This newspaperman recently turned down an impressive cash offer for his newspapers and said, "Printer's ink is the stuff of the fountain of youth."

France is about three times the size of Missouri.

Eisenhower To Get Gold Medal Award

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was scheduled today to receive the gold medal award of the Pennsylvania society at its 49th annual dinner in New York, Dec. 13, for distinguished achievement.

The dinner, which in the past has been looked upon as a sounding board for Keystone State politics, is being awaited by political observers to determine the likelihood of any Pennsylvania support of the army chief of staff for the Republican presidential nomination.

Attending the affair will be the key GOP leaders of the state, together with ranking party leaders in the nation.

RHEUMATISM AND ECONOMICS

LONDON.—(INS)—The British Empire Rheumatism council reports that over three million working weeks are lost in Great Britain by the insured population because of rheumatic diseases. From the council reports it appears that rheumatic diseases are one of Britain's greatest economic liabilities. The annual loss of economic production because of this malady is estimated at 1.5 million dollars. This is caused chiefly through reduced productivity, sick pay, lost man-hours, and the cost of medical treatment.

Deaths Of The Day

Dallas A. Hazen
Dallas A. Hazen, aged 75 years, of the Dean building, died in the New Castle Hospital, Thursday at 10:15 p. m., following a long illness.

Mr. Hazen was born in Lawrence county, September 3, 1872, son of Aaron and Helen Hazen. He was a retired restaurant operator. The deceased was a member of the First Christian church.

Surviving are a son, Dallas E. Hazen, Ellwood; and a daughter, Mrs. Michael Kraynac, of Ellwood City; two brothers, Clarence L. Hazen, of Lisbon, O., and Clement E. Hazen, this city.

Funeral services will be from the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, Saturday at 2 p. m., and burial will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The family will receive friends tonight 7 to 9 o'clock.

Luigi Malizia

Luigi Malizia, aged 71 years, of 420 North Liberty street, died at his residence, Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, following a lingering illness.

He was born September 20, 1876 in Sette Frate, Italy, son of Michael and Concetta Malizia. For 50 years he lived in America, in the seventh ward district, and for 29 years was a car man helper on the B. & O. railroad. The deceased was a member in the King Humbert hall.

His wife, Maria, died one year ago.

Surviving are two children, Michael J. Malizia, and Edith, of this city; and three grandchildren.

The body will be returned from the DeCarbo funeral home, to the residence late this afternoon.

Funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

Black Funeral Time

Funeral services for S. A. Black, New Castle R. D. 5, will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence with Rev. Hugh Snodgrass officiating. Interment will take place in East Brook U. P. cemetery.

The body has been removed from the Cunningham funeral home to the residence, where friends will be received at any time.

S.Sgt. Goodwin Funeral Time

Funeral services for S.Sgt. Duwayne P. Goodwin, of New Galilee, who died on Tuesday, from injuries received in a jeep accident in Burlington, Vermont, will be conducted from the Marshall funeral home, Wampum, on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

Burial will be held in Oak Park cemetery, this city.

The body is expected to arrive here sometime today, and will be taken to the Marshall funeral home. Friends will be received at the funeral home, Saturday afternoon, 2 to 4 o'clock, and in the evening 7 to 9 o'clock.

S.Sgt. Goodwin is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bertha Rohman Goodwin, of New Galilee; a daughter, Rebecca Darlene, aged two; his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boren, Youngstown, O., who were former Volant residents.

He also leaves two brothers, Marion Goodwin, of R. D. 1, New Galilee; and William Boren, of R. D. 7, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Swoggers, of New Galilee, R. D. 1.

HUGE CROWD SEES MUMMERS PARADE IN SOUTH SIDE AREA

At the right of the line was a group of horsemen, giving the parade a wild west flavor.

Win Prizes

William F. DeCarbo, general chairman, today announced the main winners of prizes. Harold Speer of R. D. 3, Volant and his group were awarded the first prize of $30 for a "Chic Sale" special mounted on a truck which from time to time was damped by the imps who hid in the corn shocks.

Shenango YMCA was second with a clever "hot" band and male dancers heading them, for $25. Danny DiCarlo was third for $15 with his wedding group. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hamill and Judy and Carroll Dix were fourth for $15 with an Indian family and the Community Chest group was fifth for $12. In this group were Mrs. Helen Palice, Mrs. Rose Di Dario, Mrs. Ann Domenick, and Mrs. Gertrude Builes.

In addition there were several hundred cash prizes of fifty cents and a dollar each to the smaller folks. It was the usual night of carnival fun, weird and spectacular costumes, and uncounted thousands of people out to enjoy it.

This was probably the best policed parade the city has seen in years. The spectators were kept back of the curb by wires, and Frank T. Sargent and his thirty five air raid wardens did an excellent job of keeping order.

Once again the South Side provided a night of fun with its hallooween celebration.

warded instead a milder and more general British measure compelling countries to yield by legal and proper procedure proven war criminals.

Another issue apt to draw fire the Soviet bloc is the application by Austria and Italy for membership in the international civil aviation organization.

The legal committee approved that of Italy but the Soviet Union quickly demonstrated its opposition to Austrian membership. The committee finally overrode the objections 30 to 4, with eight abstentions.

Behind Closed Doors

But the plenary sessions at Flushing Meadows are divided in importance today by the continued sittings behind closed doors at Lake Success of the two sub-committees of the Palestine committee. In the group considering partition of the Holy Land, U. S. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson will deliver a 600-word "fundamental" statement on United States intention on enactment of the U. N. majority plan.

It is calculated that the Johnson statement will throw sufficiently new light on U. S. plans for the enactment of partition in Palestine to enable the sub-committee to make concrete progress toward the blueprint is charged with drawing up for the main committee.

The twelve items listed on the two-day agenda of the General Assembly at Flushing Meadows include the hotly debated issue of "war mongers."

Milder Resolution

The Political and Security committee pulled teeth, and in place of the accusative measure originally submitted by Andrei Vishinsky, there is the milder, unanimous resolution recommending condemnation of war incitement.

Another resolution calling on the United Nations to submit southwest Africa to the trustee ship system also will be approved with little debate.

With a Korean "watch-dog" commission already decided on the Soviet Union continued to hold out its threats to boycott such a body if the General Assembly insists on approving it without first bringing in "elected representatives of the Korean people."

gator and former FBI agent, testified that a Soviet agent had tried unsuccessfully in 1942—three years before existence of the bomb was made public—to obtain "highly secret" information from J. Robert Oppenheimer, atomic scientist.

Oppenheimer, now attached to the Princeton Research Institute, declined to confirm or deny the statement "in order not to interfere in any manner with the activities of the agencies of the United States government that may be concerned."

Investigation Ends

Russell's testimony rang down the curtain on the Washington phase of the committee's investigation of Communism in Hollywood which brought these additional developments:

1. Philip Murray, president of the CIO declared in a letter to six Congressional leaders that the committee should be promptly repudiated and its existence halted "once and for all."

2. Paul C. McNutt, counsel for the motion picture industry, and 19 self-styled "unfriendly" Hollywood witnesses termed the abrupt ending of the hearings a "complete vindication" of their position.

3. Movie producer Sam Goldwyn told a news conference in New York that the committee was trying to "dictate" the kind of pictures Hollywood should make and declared that he would permit no one to do this "as long as I continue

PANEL ON WORLD AFFAIRS PRESENTED

New Castle Section, Council of Jewish Women, met in Temple Israel Tuesday evening for an international relations program when a panel discussion of world government problems by the New Castle high school United World Federalists student division was presented with Donald Levine as moderator. Those who took part were Richard Stevens who spoke on "Federalists," Peter Raiby who spoke on "Individuals in World Citizenship," William Druschel whose topic was "World Peace" and Thomas Weide who spoke on "Justice and Security".

Mrs. Archie Slavovskiy, International Relations chairman, announced the program.

During business, with Mrs. Daniel Fisher presiding, it was decided to give two days in November to help mail out seals for the Lawrence County T. B. society. Also, the section will participate as one of 15 organizations in the S. O. S. drive for clothing and canned goods November 11-15. There will be a meeting November 4 at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. William Cosel, North Jefferson street, to make plans for this collection, it was announced.

By its "Ship-A-Box" activities, council's 200 sections are now providing work and play materials for 152 Jewish children's homes in 11 European countries, it was reported. The board of directors of the National Council of Jewish Women has endorsed the majority report of the United Nations special committee on Palestine and has called on congress for passage of the Stratton bill and the return of rationing and price control as essential to ensure the success of the United States' two-fold program of immediate aid to the needy of Europe and adequate food for domestic consumption at prices all income groups can afford, according to word received by the New Castle section.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. Mont Blau, Mrs. Harry Baron, Mrs. Sam Baron, Mrs. A. Kaplan, Mrs. Abe Cohen, Mrs. Jack Conn, Mrs. Harry Bobick, Mrs. William Blau, Mrs. Pierson Kaplan, Dr. M. A. Feine, Mrs. Benjamin Finkel and Mrs. Abe Fisher.

CLASS PLANS DINNER FOR BRADDOCK CHOIR

At the home of Mrs. Paul Fabian of West Washington street, members of the Willing Workers Bible class of the First Congregational church were entertained Thursday evening, with Mrs. Joseph Richards as hostess.

Mrs. Rachel Long led the devotional period, and presided over the meeting.

During the business session, plans were made for serving a dinner in the church parlor to the Braddock mixed chorus, who will present a sacred concert in the church on Sunday evening, November 23.

Later games were the evening's pastime, with prizes falling to Mrs. T. J. Jones and Mrs. Ruth Matthews.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess in keeping with the halloween season; aides were her daughter, Mrs. Fabian, Mrs. Stanley Dugan, and Miss Isabel Price. Out-of-town guest was Mrs. W. F. Jones of Weirton, W. Va.

Mrs. Ben Fowler of Grimes street will be hostess to the class at the November meeting.

JOINT PROGRAM AT FIRST METHODIST

Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Guild of the First Methodist church met jointly in the parlors of the church Wednesday evening with the guild in charge of the program.

Mrs. Worrell Jones presented a group of ten girls who conducted devotional services on the theme "Christ and the Rich Young Ruler."

A talk on "The State of Women" was given by Miss Mary Alice White who also gave a report for the nominating committee.

Mrs. L. F. Hemenway presided over business during which it was announced that Miss Elizabeth Dalby will speak at evening service in the church on Sunday, November 9.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by the Queen Esther circle. Mrs. Worrell Jones poured.

BRIDE AND GROOM "AT HOME" HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ray Green have returned from a short wedding trip to New York City and have taken up residence in an apartment at 216 East Grand street.

The bride is the former Miss Esther Mary Pence, daughter of Mrs. Bert Pence of R. D. 4.

The single ring ceremony was solemnized in King's Chapel Methodist church at 1 o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, October 25. Rev. Merle Weaver officiated in the presence of the immediate families. The bride wore a black gabardine suit with a black lace train and a corsage of red roses and white baby's breaths.

Mrs. Green is employed at the J. C. Penney company. Mr. Green son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green of R. D. 3, is with the C. D. Ambrosia Trucking company.

NUPTIALS QUIET

Miss Patricia Ann Tobin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Tobin of 713 Croton avenue, and Paul Michael Harcar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Harcar of 410 East Leasure avenue, were united in marriage at a quiet ceremony in the parish house of St. Mary's church Tuesday evening, October 28. Rev. Francis J. King officiated.

Cecil Suber served the groom as best man.

Dinner was served to the bridal party and the immediate families at a downtown restaurant immediately following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Harcar have taken up residence with the groom's parents for the time being. Mr. Harcar is employed by the S. J. Grove & Sons company.

J. H. W. SOCIETY TO GATHER AT CHURCH

Jean Hill Williamson Missionary society of Highland U. P. church will assemble Monday evening, November 3, in the church. At that time a thank offering play will be given under direction of Mrs. F. L. Burton, thank offering secretary. Articles for the sunshine basket, which will be sent to Mrs. William P. Douglass, will be taken to the meeting.

Mrs. C. R. Kennaday, Mrs. J. Walker, Balerine, Mrs. Frank Schick, Mrs. Robert G. Dickson, Miss Eleanor Ridley and Mrs. R. H. Johnston will compose the hostess committee.

Loyal Leaders Meet

Loyal Leaders class of the First Christian church was entertained for business and a social time on Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. R. B. Cummings, Leasure avenue. The house was decorated for halloween with pumpkins, black cats and the traditional motifs.

In serving lunch the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Charles Doerr.

On Friday, November 21, there will be a tureen dinner at the church for members and their families.

UNANSWERED QUESTION

A half century ago Brooks Adams, an original thinker on economic subjects, said:

"The future course of the United States with its vast and growing surplus, becomes the most momentous question of the age."

That prophecy was never more impressive than it is today. This is now the greatest "have" country in history, and most of the "have not" countries are clamoring for its surpluses.

But the very fact that this country has so much precludes their trading with it on any other basis than American gifts. And this country cannot preserve its well-being on a basis of giving away its substance and getting nothing in return.

The United States has been the principal world creditor since 1918. Prior to World War I Britain performed that function. Britain played its role of lender differently. It lent money for industrial development, transportation and self-liquidating projects that, in turn, made money. Britain's loans were repaid, if not in money in raw materials.

Will the United States continue to give away its substance or will this country shrink its exports to a volume which can be paid for in money or usable raw materials? That is a question which must be answered. And it is a safe guess it will not be answered in favor of continued gifts.

No country, however rich, can donate its substance indefinitely.

FAR TOO BROAD

Directors of the American Society of Newspaper Editors meeting at Cleveland studied a "poisonous flower" that has been produced by the loyalty order President Truman issued last March. Then they adopted a resolution urging that it be lopped off without delay.

The editors had before them a directive prepared for the Veterans Administration by the Security Advisory Board of the State, War and Navy Department Coordinating Committee, which has been charged with implementing the President's order. That directive contains some remarkable language that, as the resolution said, would "place even ordinary affairs of federal civilian agencies beyond public scrutiny."

It classifies as confidential all "information the unauthorized disclosure of which, although not endangering the national security, would be prejudicial to the interest or prestige of the nation, any governmental activity, or any individual, or would, cause administrative embarrassment or difficulty."

That covers a great deal of territory. The resolution points out that this directive is evidently a pattern for others to be issued to other agencies. It foresees that its effect would be to permit any administrative officer to "shield himself from public scrutiny or criticism" simply by tagging information as confidential. It asks the President to nullify the regulation and to make sure that it does not appear in future directives.

He ought to do both. It is necessary now to keep information from being used against the interests of the nation, but there is no excuse for this answer to a bureaucrat's prayer.

"ONLY THE STRONG"

Remember that ancient Greek geographer named Pytheas, who sailed all around England nearly 2,400 years ago. He was an astronomer, too, and a navigator whose fixes were reliable, and he probably was the first traveler in history to cruise north of Norway and into the Arctic Circle.

Ever since the days of Pytheas, men have been fighting to learn the secrets of that vast area at the top of the world. Norsemen settled in Iceland in the ninth century. Irish monks had already been there, and across the centuries Portuguese, Englishmen, Dutchmen, Americans, Swedes and Russians came to know its awful beauty and its bitter extremes. Many of them left their bones there.

All civilization seems to have started in sub-tropical areas, and spread ever northward toward the center of the Arctic Circle. Its ice-packed sea and rugged terrain still are formidable, but now the United States Air Force has conquered the third—and least threatening—dimension of its vastness, and its combat planes can fly anywhere and in any season over the Arctic regions. They've been doing it for a year in top secrecy.

This is a splendid accomplishment, but the Air Force itself admits that only a start has been made in consolidating the work, by establishment of a network of navigational aids and defenses, including radar sites, fighter bases and underground control centers, and other facilities.

There is a grave implication in this work at the top of the world. If America could do it, so could Russia. The words of Robert Service still hold meaning:

"This is the law of the Yukon, that only the Strong shall thrive."

Men ruin their suits by stuffing pockets too full, clothing manufacturers say. Perhaps they should leave all those tax notices at home.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The inevitable danger of civil war in India was emphasized today by dispatches telling of continued disturbances in the great, rich fertile state of Kashmir, known in song story and ballad as the vale of beauty in the Far East.

Communal disorders and even violent clashes have marked the predominant Moslem community's disinclination to go along with Hindu Maharajah Sir Hari Singh's decision to ally his princely state with the dominion of Hindustan. Troops have been sent out from Pakistan areas adjoining the borders of Kashmir.

Call For Assistance
Moslem leaders have called for international assistance to make good their claim that the ancient province, overtopped by silvery mountainpeaks and carved into by lush green valleys, shall not be made a political pawn in the present dismemberment of the British empire.

The grave situation in Kashmir brings out above all other considerations the inescapable difficulties faced by Prime Minister Attlee when he announced that this regime was determined to begin relinquishment of empire obligations in India as of August 15. The first repercussions came at home.

Winston Churchill plumed from the depths of his oratory to criticize a British government system that was willing and even anxious to throw over a heritage of greatness in imperial rule.

Reminds Of Work Done
He reminded Great Britain of the work done by Lord Clive; of the burdens carried for so many years and with such outstanding success by British governments that considered India truly the brightest jewel in the royal diadem.

And others predicted that a "blood bath" must follow in the wake of any withdrawal by British sovereignty.

Dispatches telling to what extent Churchill's forecasts have been fulfilled still are somewhat fragmentary.

There have been massacres of Hindus and Moslems being evacuated from "displaced" areas of Hindustan and Pakistan. And there have been riots in the streets of Calcutta and elsewhere—events almost commonplace to a world which has read and heard of such disturbances for generations.

The uprisings in Kashmir may portend much more. International observers are watching them as a key to perhaps even more dangerous events in the times that lie ahead.

Bevan Some Day To Be Prime Minister

LONDON, Oct. 31.—At the age of 13, Britain's Minister of Health, Aneurin Bevan, went down into a Welsh coal-pit to begin his working career. For a number of years he worked at the coal face—and that is hard, gruelling work in darkness and fetid air.

It is, therefore, no accident that Bevan should be the most controversial and exciting figure in the present government. Coal does something to a man. Bevan's years in the mines sharpened his sense of social injustice and gave him the drive that has carried him to high office.

Some Day Prime Minister
Both Conservatives and Laborites say that he will some day be prime minister of Great Britain. At so, he is solid, thick-looking, with a heavy thatch of iron-gray hair. His eyes are the color of blue ice but they have humorous glints that shine out.

In his solidness and his Welshness and in the sense of the dramatic he bears a family resemblance to our own John L. Lewis. But for all his ambition and drive, it is difficult to imagine Bevan taking himself with the same personal self-satisfaction which characterizes Lewis.

Although it is not exactly in his province, Bevan talks freely about the coal crisis. Labor in the mines, he says, has throughout history been slave labor. It is eight hours of death to go down into the pits. Eight hours of burial each day. With the Welsh burr in his speech, this has an added force.

The United States, Bevan points out, would have had its own acute manpower problem in coal-mining if so much of both industry and home heating had not been converted to oil. That, says Bevan, has created an oil problem in the United States and an oil problem with political meaning all over the world.

Represented As Villain
In the Conservative press, Bevan is generally represented as the villain of the piece. He is credited with persuading the cabinet to carry through the new proposed restrictions on the House of Lords as a preliminary to nationalization of iron and steel. Bevan's wife, Jennie Lee, also a member of parliament and now on a visit in the United States, shares her husband's convictions on socialization.

Certainly there is in Bevan more of the fighting spirit of the Labor party of the past. The senior cabinet member, the new proposed time coalition government, and responsibility has checked their ardor for reform. They tend to be overawed by the enormity of the economic crisis which confronts them.

But Bevan has not altered his views about the non-workability of the capitalist system when it reaches the phase of development in which too much wealth is concentrated in too few hands. As he puts it, there are too many I.O.U.'s in the hands of the rich. Bevan rejects, with some show of annoyance, the suggestion that the Attlee government has put too many I.O.U.'s in the pay envelope of the working man—I.O.U.'s in the form of money that will buy little or nothing and that contribute therefore to England's suppressed inflation.

Powers Are Limited
In the present cabinet, Bevan's powers are nothing like those of Sir Stafford Cripps, who was recently made economic coordinator with authority over several ministries. Two men could hardly be more unlike than Cripps and Bevan.

Cripps comes of a prosperous upper-class family of high idealism. Sainly is an adjective applied to him by both friends and foe. Deeply religious, he has in his face (Continued on Page Five)

VEGETARIANS

Cows are vegetarians. They eat food in large quantities. A cow has a big tummy. Who wants to have a tummy like a cow?

People are so constituted that they can eat both plants and meat. Meat is more concentrated than hay. An ounce of meat provides nourishment than many ounces of hay.

A man can eat meat and vegetables and fruit. His teeth are the right shape for all kinds of food.

His digestive apparatus can use all these foods to good advantage. Let the pigs and cattle eat the grass and the corn. They can have as big tummies as they want.

We can eat the ham and beef steak and keep a perfect 36.

DON'T BUY FLIMSY PLAYTHINGS

During the war, materials and labor were so scarce that most of the toys for children were fragile, easily and quickly made, often at enormous profit. Many playthings for children from three to eight were made of cardboard or fragile plastics. Unless the young child was guided in careful use of such toys these playthings were quickly ready for the trash heap.

A great many of these toys are still on the market. Furthermore, because plastics can be so easily adapted to making of playthings, especially wheel toys, that take paint well, there are appearing all too many such toys very easily broken. Yet some plastic toys are sturdy toys. The trouble is that the flashy appeal to the eye deceives many a purchaser of toys, who does not take the trouble to examine for probable durability.

Sturdy Toys
It's the young child under five or six who most needs sturdy toys, the very one for whom most cheap fragile toys are available. Often the youngster seven or eight may play very carefully and profitably with a fragile toy meant for a younger child. When this older child does so he employs considerable imagination, using the plaything as a mere symbol of expression. His greater experience in terms of value and his greater motor skill enable him to employ more carelessness.

Repeatedly in this column I have said that any creative or constructive play has great moral value since it is the opposite of destructiveness. But when a young child plays with a toy very easily broken he is discouraged in constructive-ness even encouraged in destructiveness.

Have A Purpose
Of course, sturdy toys that have a purpose for wholesome education cost far more than some of the eye-appealing, flashy, fragile ones. But their materials, workmanship and teaching qualities are incomparably superior. One good sturdy toy of real educational value is better than a ton of trash. Your kindergarten or primary grade teacher can tell you good sources of such materials and playthings. Moreover, the toy department of one or several of your local stores may have the type toys I have mentioned on display. Look always for sturdy playthings. Related to the foregoing is a bulletin of mine, "Letting Little Children Learn," to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

One of the silliest advertisements I have ever seen has just come to me in the mail.

It is a post card, and it is headed: "Now you can have one of these famous 'Colonial Coach Bells' for your car or station wagon."

Then it goes on: "This cheerful, melodious, two-toned carriage bell has been famous to Bermuda visitors for over 100 years."

"Installed in your car, it announces your arrival with a cheery musical greeting which identifies you wherever you go—a courteous 'Thank You' as you pass a friend on the road. Lively up your car, a thrilling gift, an instant hit. I just recently got a new car, after waiting for it more than a year."

It is my pride and joy, and every morning I dust it off and polish it, just as a mother would wash and comb her baby.

I know that eventually that car will be scratched and battered but, at the moment, may the Lord have mercy on anyone who even gives it a mean look!

So you may imagine how I would like to put one of those 'Colonial Coach Bells' in that beautiful creature.

Here are the "Quick and Easy" directions for installing the monster. (a) Bore five small holes in floor board. (b) Place round bell plate on floor. (c) Hold bell under car. (d) Insert screws and tighten. Now step on it!

On the other side of the card is the usual warning: "Only a limited number available. Order today." And then comes the almost unbelievably low price—only $9.75—and, believe it or not, that includes tax and shipping charges.

I haven't the slightest desire, of course, to have one of those gosh darn things in my car—particularly not when I have to bore five holes in my floor board and get under the car to attach it. But maybe you like gadgets. Maybe you won't be happy without adding a two-toned bell to all the other noises in your neighborhood.

Well, if you want it, I'll be glad to give you the address of the advertiser—and more power to you.

I wouldn't be a bit surprised at that, if they sold a lot of those things.

Lots of people just love gadgets, and I have seen the craziest and most useless things in some of the most intelligent homes I have visited.

We have our share of them—mostly presents. For instance, there is an orange squeezer which (Continued on Page Five)

Once again the dreadful night When the little ghosts in white And the poor in ragged raiment Plead for food at every door! Now the wrinkled and the grayed Must pretend to be afraid. As if witches, elves and goblins They had never seen before.

Oh, so suddenly appears This bright sign-post of the years, With the jack-o'-lantern gleaming And the pranks the children play. That until he finds once more Little goblins at his door. No grandpa thinks to notice That a year has slipped away. (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

Depression Precedent Missing

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—Are we like the hotel guest who stayed awake all night waiting for the man upstairs to drop the other shoe? Is our economy still holding its breath because we believe that a depression must inevitably follow a war? Today we have the unexampled condition of 60 million men at work. We have unsupplied markets for manufactured goods. And loose money ready to pay even the outsize prices. All this has the aspect of present prosperity and carries the promise of more to come. Yet a curious pessimism darkens the minds of our economic soothsayers.

Names Two Alternatives

Here's what I mean. Recently I visited the offices of a U. S. Senator who was a successful businessman before he entered politics a few years ago. "What's wrong with American industry, Senator?" He blamed John L. Lewis for starting the wage rise and the steel-makers for setting off price inflation. "Well, Senator, what's the cure?" He named two alternatives. Either a planned economy under government controls. Or a well-er—aslight depression. "Which of the two is preferable, Senator?" A long and thoughtful pause. "I'd rather not answer that one!"

He didn't have to. What he'd clearly implied was just this: "A depression is inevitable. Let's get it over with—the sooner the better." He even went on to cite the benefits of a well-er—a slight depression. First of all, it would create a "pool of unemployed workers." This would put labor leaders at a disadvantage and allow employers to have some say-so about wages. In the second place, it would bring down prices, force profiteers to trim their margins. A slight depression would do these things and perhaps prevent a major depression later on.

Why Any Depression?

But why any depression at all? The assumption that one is inevitable seems to be based on nothing but precedent. We've always had 'em after wars, haven't we? The answer here is that the war we recently fought was not like other wars. The precedent has been destroyed. This time we did not slip back into isolationism—we committed ourselves to huge projects overseas. This time the victory did not remove military threats to our security—it produced a new and bigger threat. This time we did not come home in expectation of collecting loans made to our allies—we set ourselves up to be the manufacturer, the banker, the grocer, and possibly the policeman, for a bankrupt and restless world.

No Makings Of Depression

None of this carries the makings of a depression. High taxes, high wages, high prices—yes, but no danger of overproduction, of collapsing markets, of people working themselves out of their jobs. Thus the pessimism is hard to fathom and the theory of "let's get it over with" is harder to justify. The pessimism, in some places, almost takes the form of a fear psychosis. Labor, as previously noted in this column, still clings to the creed of "do less"—not, perhaps, from laziness or spite, but from dread of glimpsing that pool of unemployment which the Senator mentioned. Certain manufacturers, some of whom have dates with the Department of Justice for restraint of trade, seem to have deliberately created scarcity of critical materials by declining to go all out on production. As for the theory that postwar prosperity can't last, that a slight setback now might prevent a bust-up later on, it seems almost like old-fashioned medicine which recommended bleeding the patient for whatever happened to ail him—or even if nothing ailed him.

Perhaps the explanation for it all is simpler than it seems. That adjective—"postwar"—which we use every day is, in fact, a misnomer. Economically speaking, we are still under war conditions. Production, as we are geared for huge overseas shipments. Foreign commitments come first. Domestic consumers take what's left. Like it or not, this is the set-up, and it is not "postwar" in any previous understanding of the word. Under these conditions a depression is not inevitable. It is almost impossible.

HOLCAD AGAIN GETS HIGH HONORS

Westminster College Newspaper Accorded All-American Honors Again

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 31.—The Holcad, weekly newspaper published by students at Westminster College, has been accorded All-American honors for the 17th consecutive semester by the Associated College Press at the University of Minnesota.

The award marks the second time The Holcad has placed among the top newspapers in colleges with enrollments of 1,000 to 2,499. The paper previously competed with schools of less than 1,000 students. Two staffs share the latest honor. Beginning the second semester last year the paper was headed by Miss Grace Jones of New Birgh-

ton. A new staff under Ralph Zahniser of Pittsburgh, took over in March.

The paper received "excellents" for headlines, typography, makeup, inside page makeup and printing. Only objections voiced by the rating agency were lack of sub-heads and lack of variety in bottom page makeup.

The Holcad was one of six college papers exhibited at the Associated Collegiate convention held at the University of Minnesota last week. A complete file of 1946-47 was exhibited in a display headed "Six Outstanding College Newspapers in the Nation".

Ralph Zahniser, editor, and Leonard Harding, Quincy, Mass., represented Westminster at the convention. Dr. William J. Thomas is faculty adviser to the publication.

The counties through the United States vary greatly in size. They range from 25 to 25,000 square miles in area.

WASHINGTON CALLING

something of the righteousness of Woodrow Wilson.

Winston Churchill, in his savage attack on the Labor government at the recent Conservative party conference at Brighton, made an exception of Cripps, whom he praised for his integrity and ability. Bevan and Churchill are implacable enemies, Bevan being one of the few Laborites willing to take on Churchill in debate in the House of Commons.

Unpleasant Duties

One of Cripps' unpleasant duties is to order the curtailment of the public-housing program, which was Bevan's pet project. The latter has been under fire for approving the start of construction on more houses than could be finished within the framework of the program.

The London Times referred editorially to the "building inflation" and the inevitable losses to be suffered by builders, building owners and local authorities.

Bevan says now that his objective in 1948 is to finish some 350,000 dwelling units either already started or approved. On one wall of his office is a large map of England and Wales that is peppered with pins of different colors, representing the stages of work on city and rural houses throughout the land.

As he points to this area and that one, Bevan warms with pride. At least we did it, he says. We've been building houses that people with low incomes can live in.

So long as the Labor party is in power, Bevan is sure to have an important place in the government. He has a wide popular following in the country and, moreover, no Labor prime minister would want this tough-minded man in opposition. And some day, given the present political tides, this former pit-boy is very likely to move into No. 10 Downing Street. (Copyright, 1947, By United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

tain command of the so-called "labor vote." Great Britain is demonstrating just now, however, the futility of this philosophy.

And it is needless to say that the great mass of Americans, in the light of experience, will never again consent to price control without wage control in the same degree.

The eagle owl is a name given most often in Europe to the great horned owl, representing a group of large fierce owls of the Northern Hemisphere generally, of which the American horned or hooting owl is an example.

MISSIONARY DEAD, MOTHER INFORMED

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(NS)—Mrs. Mary Devine of Pittsburgh had been advised today that her son, Father James Devine, 42, a missionary of the Cominican order, was dead after having been captured by bandits in China last May 14. No details of his death were given in a brief announcement from Cominican headquarters in China. It was the first word Mrs. Devine had had of her son since two weeks after his capture.

The original pronunciation of "geyser," which is an Icelandic word, was "geeser." This was later changed to "gayer" and finally Americanized to "gyser."

Princess Elizabeth Reveals Details Of Wedding Makeup

Will Use Lip Rouge Of Faint Blue Tint, Chooses 'Going Away' Outfit

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Princess Elizabeth has decided to use a lip rouge with a faint blue tint at her Westminster Abbey wedding ceremony Nov. 20 to match her smoky-gray "going-away" outfit.

Details of her wedding makeup were revealed today. Here they are:

To withstand the long, exhausting ceremony in an over-heated atmosphere, the princess has chosen a peach-tinted, non-drying liquid foundation for her face.

Over this will be applied peach-tinted powder.

Her cheek-coloring will be emphasized and her eyes will be mascaraed lightly to withstand the glare of the Abbey's artificial lighting.

Longer Hemline

The princess, incidentally, is giving in to the longer hemline trend. Despite appeals to British women by government spokesmen to adhere to knee-length dresses to save material, the princess' clothes are gradually getting longer.

Her latest ensemble is a new pale green coat with contrasting frock underneath only 15 inches from the ground. This compares with the 17-inch hemline she preferred in September, and the 16-inch hemline early this month.

More Witnesses

Will Be Heard In Trial Of Warden

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Another parade of defense witnesses was lined up today in the federal court trial of H. G. Worthy, former Georgia prison warden, and four guards charged with the mass murder of eight Negro convicts.

Defense Attorney Vance Mitchell promised to repeat yesterday's performance as the trial entered its fifth day. Yesterday he called eleven witnesses to the stand after the prosecution rested.

Worthy and the four guards are charged with violating the civil rights of the eight slain convicts who were shot down in an alleged prison break at the Brunswick county road camp last July 11.

SEARCHING FOR COUPE

Dodge coupe, Pennsylvania license 32A47, owned by George D. Stevenson, 329½ Boyles avenue, was reported stolen from near the post-office in South Jefferson street last night. Color of the coupe is blue. Police searched for the car today.

During 1946 one patient was admitted to a hospital in the continental United States every two seconds on the average.

Walter E. Grim Dies At Greenville

Walter E. Grim of Greenville, former resident of Lawrence county, died this morning at 6 o'clock following a lingering illness, according to records received by his sisters, Mrs. E. L. Davidson and Miss Della M. Grim, 463 East Washington street.

The son of Martin and Nettie Woods Grim, he was born in Fredonia, Pa. On September 27, 1900, he was married to the former Bess Longstreet, who survives.

Mr. Grim was employed at the N. W. Moyer Motor company of Greenville and was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Greenville. During his residence in New Castle he was employed by the Bell Telephone company.

In addition to his widow in Greenville and his sisters in this city, Mr. Grim is survived by one son, M. Delos Grim of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. Fred McDowell of Mercer. A brother, Harry W. Grim, preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Lotzenhizer funeral home in Greenville, with Rev. Marshall Berryhill officiating.

Interment will be in Hadley cemetery, Hadley, Pa. Friends will be received at the funeral home Saturday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

There are more than 180 parts used in automobiles, in addition to tires, which are manufactured by the rubber industry.

LEASE CARNEGIE HALL
NEW YORK, (INS)—The Board of the Directors of the Philharmonic-Symphony announced recently that, for the first time, it has signed a long-term lease with the management of Carnegie Hall, until the spring of 1951. In the past, year-to-year leases have been customary and more recently, with the future of Carnegie Hall still unsettled, cancellation clauses have been in every contract.

FIRE EQUALIZES PRODUCE
WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—

Fire loss in the United States this year threatens to exceed 700 million dollars, an all time high. The department of agriculture points out that "this loss is roughly equal to the value of every productive acre and every farm building in the state of Washington."

Switzerland has about twice the area of Massachusetts.

State Capitol

State Probe
May DevelopExpect Attorney General To Sidestep Decision On Touchy ProblemOTHER NEWS OF STATE CAPITAL

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The state justice department was expected to sidestep a special legislative committee's request for an opinion whether the General Assembly could legislate an end to Pennsylvania lawyers' so-called "closed-shop" . . . Attorney General T. McKen Chidsey's reply probably will emphasize that the department was established to advise only administrative agencies . . . the opinion was sought by the joint State Government commission to determine whether it should investigate residence requirements of county bar associations which in some instances required as much as five years residence as a prerequisite to practice . . . Sen. John M. Walker (R) Allegheny, claimed he had suggested local regulations be scrutinized as a move toward permitting Pennsylvania lawyers admitted before the supreme court to practice anywhere in the state . . . admissions to county bars now can be limited by judges.

The probe, if it materializes, was expected to stir up a hornets nest in the legal profession . . . involved in the matter would be fat fees currently received by lawyers who must be retained by out-of-county attorneys as the only channel through which they may handle cases in courts outside home counties . . . also involved was severely restricted practices before the Dauphin county court which handles litigation involving the commonwealth . . . Chidsey would be loathe to be drawn into the controversy which assuredly will arouse strong resistance from the bar association and possibly some judges.

Gov. James H. Duff was the third Pennsylvania governor to receive a 10-gallon hat from a chief executive of Texas . . . Duff's high-crowned felt hat was sent by Gov. Beauford Jester . . . a predecessor of Jester sent the first modified cowboy hat to Pennsylvania to replace an old slouch campaign fedora lost by Gov. Gifford Pinchot on a fishing trip . . . the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia in 1936 was the scene of the second presentation when the then Gov. George H. Earle donned his gift-hat.

The department of internal affairs planned to survey revenue raising methods of communities in other states as an aid to Pennsylvania municipalities planning to take advantage of new virtually unlimited taxing powers . . . Secretary William S. Livengood said the department "will not suggest or recommend any new form of taxation" but would make available examples of tax programs in other locales.

Forty-seven municipalities will hold Sunday motion picture referenda November 4 in conjunction with the general election . . . five of the communities will vote on whether to continue Sunday movies, the others whether to allow them . . . the five were Ebensburg, Osceola Mills, Blakely, McDonald and Laceyville . . . Sunday sports referenda will be held by Coatesville, Somerset, Windsor and Conewago townships in York county; Newport, Somerset, Shenango township in Lawrence county, and East Bangor . . . the law limits referenda to one each five years.

SMALL PEAR CROP

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—The 1947 pear crop in Pennsylvania was the smallest in many years, totaling only 274,000 bushels, according to Federal-State surveys announced by the State Department of Agriculture. Last year's crop of 345,000 bushels was well under the 1936-1945 average of 430,000 bushels.

Commodity Prices Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1947, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 31.—Readers recently have been asking me some rather tough questions. To answer all of them, I would have to be an oracle, as well as a statistician. However, I do the best I can. Right now I am deluged with inquiries as to when the peak in commodity prices will be reached and whether there will be a further rise in the cost of living. Briefly, and with fingers crossed, the wholesale price peak should be seen by the early second quarter of 1948. As to retail prices and the cost of living, a further rise is inevitable.

A Glance At the Record
To bring you up-to-date on commodity price inflation, I shall risk boring you with a few statistics. The latter, as you know, are much maligned, but do serve a purpose. Since August, 1939, to recent date, the Bureau of Labor's all commodity wholesale price index has advanced 109.9 per cent. Building materials have skipped ahead to the tune of 103.5 per cent, other things have advanced 165.3 per cent. The real culprit, however, is farm products, with a gain of 207.4 per cent. Hence, the unprecedented prosperity in the farm belt, which seems destined to continue for a year or so at least. Merchandisers should keep that fact in mind. Farm areas are a seller's bonanza these days. Farmers should be very careful not to lose their profits by making questionable "investments".

To give you a better idea of what the current commodity price inflation means in terms of dollars and cents, I shall cite a few specific instances. Back in August, 1939, railroads and manufacturers could buy a ton of bituminous coal at the mines for $2.50 to $2.70; today they must pay $4.85 to $5.25 per ton. Southern pine lumber then was selling for $22.35 per M; today it commands $80. A pound of butter in August, 1939, would have cost your market man 24½¢; today the price is 68½¢. Whereas cocoa then was selling for about 5¢ a pound, the price now is 49¢. This fact bodes no good for the 5¢ chocolate bar.

Raw Materials Outlook
Raw material prices have increased since August, 1939, about 160 per cent and will go higher. Huge public purchasing power, plus continued high employment at good wages, points to heavy demand for finished goods for some time to come. Steel and certain other raw materials are already scarce. Nylon stockings may soon be scarce again. Rents will be higher. Production costs certainly will not move lower in the months ahead, and might well increase, especially if labor should strike for still higher wages to offset advanced living costs.

It is possible, however, that prices of certain imported raw materials may move lower in the not-too-distant future. Prices of cocoa, burlap and shellac are being artificially maintained at exorbitant levels by foreign governments. But it may well be that these governments of producing countries are over-playing their hands.

Farm Price Trend
Farmers, under government tutelage, now know when to hold and when to sell. Under the "parity-price" program, they have little to lose by playing their cards close to their chest. The well-advertised program of foreign aid, with its indicated strain upon the domestic economy, is the farmer's cue for holding his wheat, or other products, for still higher prices.

Under the circumstances, I believe that farm prices will hold up during 1948. This year's short corn crop, plus heavy foreign demand for wheat and other food products, is the pivotal factor. While the food conservation program may tend to ease the over-all strain, it will not radically alter the tight supply-demand situation.

While I regret to say it, the average American housewife in the months ahead, will be faced with higher prices in order to fill her market basket. Already, she is paying over double the August, 1939, food prices. My advice is to practice economy by following simple dietetic rules. There are many good substitutes for meat, meat, eggs, etc. A few shifts in diet, and a little curbing of inordinate appetite can easily fatten the pocketbook while slimming the figure. The best exercise is to push food away from you! "Second-helping-itis" is the most prevalent American disease.

Optimists Hear Miller Smith On Lido Road History

Army Project Completed
In India

Optimist club of the city, at their regular meeting Thursday evening in The Castleton hotel, heard a highly informative and graphic description of the building of the Lido road in India by Miller Smith, engineer of the project.

Mr. Smith, who is also in charge of the building of route 422 near the city, held his audience in rapt attention as he related the almost insurmountable obstacles which blocked the path of the workers on the Army project.

After intense jungle training the troops started the road construction in May of 1943, cutting their way through dense undergrowth in the face of the most adverse conditions imaginable. The army first enlisted the aid of the head-hunters of the region and used them as porters. The tribe agreed to forego their search for human heads until the completion of the road, Mr. Smith explained.

Went Over Mountains

The first 110 miles of the road (which was 270 miles in length) was built over mountain ranges and during the monsoon season. Some 250 inches of rain fell during seven months of the work. The workers were supplied from the air by Army C-47 transports which flew at tree-top level most of the time due to the dense fogs blanketing the area most of the time.

Another guest of the evening was Vincent Wadlinger of the Pennsylvania Power company, also an engineer on the road.

It was reported that the sale of tickets for the forthcoming Civic Drama Guild plays is going at a good rate.

GIRL WINS PRIZES

Miss Amy Contos, 1504½ Hamilton street, won three prizes in the halloween parade Thursday evening on Long avenue. Three judges gave her a check each for a small amount of money. She won her prizes for twirling in the Croton band.

Nature produces new soil at the rate of about one inch in 500 years.

Cpl. R. E. Morrow Will Be Buried On Sunday Afternoon

Body Of New Castle Soldier, Returned From Pacific, Arrives
At Vandergrift

Word was received here Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Delmar W. Morrow of 407 Hillcrest avenue, that the body of their son, Corporal Richard E. Morrow had arrived in Vandergrift, Pa. Vandergrift is the former family home of the Morrow family and their family burial plot is located there.

Corporal Morrow was a member of the United States Marines. In the fighting in the Marshall Islands in the South Pacific he was killed but his gallantry in action won him the Navy Cross. This was presented posthumously later in a service in First Presbyterian church.

Corporal Morrow was killed in action on February 18, 1944. His body was returned to the United States on the Honda Knot. Funeral services will be held in Vandergrift, Sunday afternoon, November 2 from the R. W. Dummer funeral home.

SIGNS NOT YET HERE

Street signs for the downtown portion of Washington street have not yet arrived here. Meanwhile the crew working under the supervision of Lieutenant C. F. Suber are repainting and replacing school and other signs throughout the city.

St. Mary's School Orchestra Program

C. F. I. offers a one year course to train journeymen floor mechanics who are specialists in the installation of magnesite, terrazzo, and asphalt tile floors. Related courses are taught including construction, blueprint reading, job estimation, and properties of flooring materials.

It is believed that C. F. I. is the only school of its kind in the world. Close contact is maintained with the leading flooring manufacturers of the U. S. The school's employment service is offered to all graduates. The extreme shortage of qualified mechanics in this period of building activity makes an excellent opportunity for C. F. I. men.

Enrollment may be made any time in one of these classes: 8:00 to 1:00; 2:00 to 7:00; or 5:00 to 10:00. Classes are five hours a day, five days a week. For further information visit us or your nearest Veterans Administration office.

Four Ordinances Given Approval

City Council Passes Measures—Other Matters Before City Solons

COAL SITUATION IS CONSIDERED

Council met Thursday in the city building and adopted four ordinances, one of which provides for the widening of Grant street, between Sampson street and the Shenango river and also in Sampson street, on the east side of the street north a distance of several hundred feet. However, work cannot be started until all property owners sign damage releases, which has not occurred. Solons referred to Streets Director James Gibson and the GNCA the matter of obtaining releases from all of the interests concerned.

The other ordinances adopted provide for the making of a contract with the Acorn Maintenance company of Akron for the reconstruction and repair of Cascade Park dance pavilion roof at their low bid of $807.

Changing and fixing the salary of the city treasurer, as tax collector of the city and school at $4,500 annually, one half to be paid by each political sub-division, and also providing, he be paid $250 by the city annually, for acting as treasurer.

Releasing and relinquishing any present right the city has to ordain and open a certain alley between Newell avenue and Cedar street, and extending from Cherry street to Madison avenue, arising out of the dedication which occurred in 1907. The latter ordinance was adopted at the request of the school board which desires the alley closed.

Coal Situation

In reply to a letter from the mayor and council to Governor H. Duff, anent the coal shortage here, Assistant Secretary Charles F. Rugaber has replied, suggesting that trucking interests here haul coal direct from Butler county mines.

The letter says production so far this year has exceeded by 16,000,000 tons the amount mined in the same period in 1946.

The secretary suggests that a survey probably would show the shortage to be a matter of distribution rather than of production.

In answer to the letter, Director James Gibson gave as the cause of the shortage here, no new mines are being opened, old mines are becoming exhausted and cars are scarce.

Naval Communication Training
Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad company has granted the city sanction for the contractor on the Seventh ward sanitary relief sewer to excavate beneath one of the tracks, effective November 4.

Council today granted the local volunteer company officers of the Naval reserve the right to use a small building at Deshon annex for instruction in communications.

Canadian Officer To Give Testimony

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The testimony of RCAF Wing Commander L. J. Birchall, O.B.E., D.F.C., is to be heard in the war crime trials of Japanese army officials now being tried by Americans for mistreatment of Allied prisoners-of-war.

Air force headquarters in Ottawa announced today that Birchall, known as the "Saviour of Ceylon" for the wireless warning he sent upon sighting the Japanese fleet approaching the strategic island, is to leave Sunday for Washington.

He will proceed from there to Japan by American service aircraft.

Birchall will testify against officials who were in charge of camps in which he was held by Japanese for three and a half years.

PRANKSTERS CHANGE SIGNS
MORENCI, Mich., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Police blamed halloween pranksters today for an interchange of highway signs at the cities of Morenci and Hudson, Mich., which befuddle uninformed motorists.

Morenci signs were put on highways M-34 and U. S. 127 just outside Hudson and Hudson signs erected on the North street entrance to Morenci.

EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 1

Only one more day remains for the operation of bicycles without a license, because, November 1, the bicycle ordinance becomes effective. Anyone who has been unable to have his bicycle inspected should take it to city hall, Saturday morning.

Eighteen Police

Capture One Mink

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Oct. 31.—(INS).—Eighteen men combined forces early Thursday to capture a mink strolling on Broadway in downtown Mt. Clemens, Mich.

The fugitive from a fur coat was chased first by five men who pursued it through an open door of the Macomb County sheriff's office.

But the vicious animal scampered past Sgt. John Verecke and took refuge in the radio room.

Verecke, who was alone, broadcast an appeal for assistance to Mt. Clemens city police and deputies. Six deputies, four city policemen and two military policemen from nearby Selfridge field answered the radio call.

Deputy Larry Spikes and two city policemen armed with night sticks joined Verecke in the 10-foot square radio room where they upset furniture during a 10-minute race after the frightened mink. Finally Spikes slipped a wire waste basket over the snapping animal.

Mr. Mink was moved to a basement cage while officers contacted six mink farms in the area to see which one was minus an inmate.

Some Old Traditions Concerning Halloween

Halloween tradition is filled with masquerading, goblins, witches, false faces and pumpkins each year, and these are taken for granted without any questions. Has the thought ever occurred to you, when these customs ever originated? And by whom?

Overlooking the probable tales of goblins, witches and false faces, we have an interesting tale to relate about the pumpkin and the role it plays during our modern Halloween.

It seems as though the Romans have had a name for almost everything.

Centuries ago, the Goddess of garden fruits, the Pomona—or pumpkin to us, was considered by the Romans to be a lucky charm. Their belief was that anyone carrying a pumpkin during the month of October would ward off the evil spirits roaming around in the darkness at night.

For a long time, though, the Pomona lost favor with the Romans, but still it lurked in the minds of many for centuries.

The idea of the modern Jack o'Lantern, is an interesting one, and originates from an old Irish legend. At one time there lived a miser, a very wealthy miser (as is usually the case) in Ireland. The said miser was also cruel, greedy and selfish, traits which misers are known.

As the story tells us, an old, tired man came to his home, asking for something to eat and a place to sleep.

"I'll give you some place to stay," the miser snarled, "and it won't be in heaven, and it won't be in hades."

And then the old man was given a lighted lantern, and told to walk the earth until judgment day. Thus, the lantern, which we associate with halloween night, became known as the Jack o'Lantern.

Randolph Churchill Lands In California After Pacific Flight

Son Of Former British Premier Attacks Russia And Attlee
In Same Breath

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Randolph Churchill, son of Britain's wartime premier Winston Churchill, charged Thursday that "it is the desire of Russian communism to conquer the world, just as it was Hitler's."

After arriving by plane in San Francisco from New Zealand, young Churchill told newsmen: "Just as Hitler explained his conquest plans in his 'Mein Kampf' so have the Russians for years listed their plans in books, too."

"But you still have dumbbells like Henry Wallace who can't see it—he says we should try to understand the Russians."

Attacks Attlee

Regarding Britain's laborite government under Clement Attlee, the son of the former premier commented:

"Things will get worse before they get better. But if the English people stood alone against Hitler for 18 months, it is right to expect they can stand five years of Mr. Attlee."

Churchill also expressed himself in favor of universal military training.

Cloudy summers are relatively cool, while cloudy winters are relatively warm.

NEW EGG RECORD

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—At a time when egg production shows a sharp decline, Pennsylvania farm flocks in September achieved a new record of production for that month, a total of 195 million eggs, the State Department of Agriculture announced today. September's egg output was 10 per cent higher than the 178 million produced during the same month last year, a Federal-State survey revealed. However, the total of eggs was 14,000.00 or seven per cent below production for the month of August.

Mummers Parade Set For Tonight In College Town

Expect Large Crowd To Share Program: Other News
Of Town

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 31.—If the weather is favorable there is every reason to believe that the halloween observance planned for tonight by the Kiwanis club will be one long to be remembered.

A parade which will form at the high school will start at 7:30. It will move along a circular route which will take them on Neshamock avenue, Market street, Vine street, New Castle street and end at the school grounds where prizes will be awarded.

Judges are Mrs. Herbert Smith, Charles Bell and Fillmore Campbell.

A group from the Westminster College band under the direction of Donald O. Cameron will lead the marchers.

Many prizes will be awarded.

CHURCH ELECTION

Roland Robinson is the new president of the official board of the Methodist church. Other board officers are Clare Wagner, vice president, and W. A. Reed, secretary.

Other new officers are: W. A. Reed, chairman of the board for the Ida M. Cribbs home for the Aged; J. E. Eckles, chairman of the Board of Religious Education; H. N. Anderson, secretary.

Mr. Eckles was elected delegate to the superintendents' conference at Warren, Pa., Nov. 1-2.

NEW CHOIR DIRECTOR

James H. Ralston, assistant professor of piano and musicology at Westminster College, has assumed duties as director of the choir of the First U. P. church. He succeeds Mrs. Robert R. McCrumb who resigned due to inability to find a house here.

St. Vitus Sodality Gay Nineties Party

In the beautifully decorated church hall of St. Vitus church, a gay nineties party was held by members of the St. Vitus Sodality, with a large group attending.

Games were played, led by Julie Venditto, and prizes were won by Bernice Dellaverson, Marie Dellaverson and Lena Delliquadri.

The prize for the oldest dress was won by Madeline Toni Covelli. Viola Tuscano and Marie Morelli won a prize for the gay nineties bride and groom.

Viola Tuscano was the chairman aided by Anna Marchetta, Mary Librandi, Julie Terranova, Anne Terranova, Lena and Kathryn Mas-trangelo.

Special guests were Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso; Sister Mary Hildegarde and Sister M. Henrietta. Entertainment was provided by Bernice Dellaverson, Lena Mas-trangelo, Marie Morelli and Viola Tuscano.

Confirm Cancer Board Officers

Mrs. J. W. McIlwraith Is County Captain; Dr. Mary Davis President

Mrs. John W. McIlwraith of New Castle, and Mary Baker Davis, M. D., of New Castle, have been confirmed as county captain and president of the county board of directors, respectively, of the Lawrence county unit, Pennsylvania division, American Cancer society.

The confirmation was received from the Pennsylvania division's board of directors which gives final approval to the local elections for these two county officers.

The two officers will spearhead in this area the cancer society's three-fold program of education, service and research which is emphasized with renewed vigor in an effort to decrease the mounting death rate from this disease.

Must Alert Citizens
The newly confirmed county captain re-emphasized the necessity of alerting all Pennsylvania citizens to the necessity of becoming acquainted with the seven cancer danger signals, the hope of cure and the three methods of treating the disease, namely, surgery, X-ray and radium.

Mary Baker Davis, M. D., the president of the Lawrence county unit, advised that if you experience one of the following "cancer danger signals," you should consult your physician immediately:

Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips; a painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue; irregular bleeding or discharge from the nipple or any natural body opening; progressive change in the color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark; persistent indigestion; persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough or difficulty in swallowing; any change in the normal bowel habits.

Almira Home Gets Bounteous Gifts

Folks Of Four Counties Donate Very Generously Of Good Things To Home

It was indeed a wonderful sight, at the Almira Home for old ladies, to see the large array of good things that have been donated to the home by the folks of Lawrence, Butler, Venango, and Mercer counties, believed to be the most ever received.

One good sized room, with tables all around in every available space covered with canned vegetables and fruit of all descriptions, with various kinds of soaps, washing powder, jello, bags of beans, toppling them off. On the floor and under the tables were half dozen bushels of apples, three of pears, bags of flour, over 600 pounds of sugar. There was also an overflow of good things donated in the hall of the home. From Shenango Pottery came a donation of chinaware for the dining room and the diet kitchen.

Mrs. Lola M. Harris, superintendent at the Home, states that the cash donations to the home were also very generous.

Wednesday was the first open house at the home, and there were about 300 visitors. It is expected this will become an annual event.

The board of directors and all those interested in the welfare of the home, are delighted with the magnanimous response to the call for contributions to this worthy institution.

All Saints Day Masses Scheduled

Disappearance Of Mikolajczyk Keeps Europeans Guessing

No Word From Missing Polish Peasant Leader For 12 Days, Wife Frantic

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Officials of the Polish Peasant party in London confessed growing anxiety today over the continued lack of news of former Polish Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk who was reported to have fled Poland to escape an alleged Communist plot against him.

There was still no clue to his whereabouts on the twelfth day of his disappearance.

A Peasant party spokesman said the wife of the missing party leader has confined herself to a bedroom in her home near London most of the time.

Terrific Strain
While showing signs of terrific strain because of failure to hear from him, nevertheless she continues to hope he will show up safely in England.

The spokesman said he is still unwilling to believe Mikolajczyk was abducted by the Russians, or that the Polish Communists have "liquidated" him as has been suggested in other Peasant party quarters.

The spokesman said he believed the Soviet secret police "were anxious to capture Mikolajczyk" but felt the fugitive had "undoubtedly taken measures to evade them."

Peasant party representatives Francis Wilk previously expressed the belief that lack of news concerning Mikolajczyk's whereabouts was due to the fact he wanted to protect his escape route as well as persons who had helped him get out of Poland.

Westminster Gets Valuable Book

NEW WILMINGTON Oct. 31.—Now placed with the archives of Westminster college is a scrapbook of correspondence which Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, former president of the college, carried on with alumni and former students who served in the four corners of the world during World War II.

Examining the book is Miss Mabel Kocher of New Castle, college librarian. The book is opened to the picture of Marine Lt. Merritt Reynolds of New Castle, who was killed in 1945 during the invasion of Iwo Jima.

Charge Atomic Research Slowed Down In Nation

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Three noted scientists charged today that the atomic energy commission is slowing down atomic research in the United States.

They asserted that "piecemeal declassification" of hitherto secret documents are handicapping workers in nuclear physics by depriving them of vital information. The three scientists—Dr. Bart J. Bok, associate director of the Harvard University observatory; Dr. Francis Friedman and Dr. Victor Weisskopf, both of Massachusetts Institute of Technology—advocate lifting secrecy regulation in whole areas of knowledge considered "safe".

Another Transport Docks With Bodies

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The Army Transport Stevens Victory docked at the Brooklyn army base today with the bodies of 127 American service men returned home from the U. S. military cemetery at St. David, Bermuda.

A 30-minute ceremony, in which a Catholic priest, a Protestant minister and a Jewish rabbi will participate, is scheduled for later in the morning at the wind-swept pier before the caskets are debarbed.

The Navy Club is composed of ex-Navy, Marine and Coastguard personnel for the purpose of holding social events and giving aid to ex-service personnel. The club is now conducting a drive for membership and all personnel eligible are requested to attend the next meeting Sunday, November 2nd.

The Navy Day dance held at the New Castle Country Club was a great success and was sponsored by the Navy Club. Many other social events will be sponsored by the club in the future.

Liquor Importers Protesting Ban

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The nation's liquor importers today denounced the grain conservation ban on Scotch whiskey imports as a blow to Britain's hope of getting needed American dollars.

Harry L. Lourie, executive vice president of the National Association of Alcoholic Beverage Importers, Inc., said his organization has filed a protest with Secretary of State Marshall.

He contended shipments would not save a bushel of grain because all whisky now imported was made in 1940 or earlier.

Missing Detroit Tavern Owner Held By New York Police

William Jacobs, 47, For Whom Wife Stole $107,000, Found
In Turkish Bath

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(INS)—A Detroit tavern owner, accused of getting his wife to steal $107,000 from her employer to help him cover up a $110,000 swindle, was arrested early today in a New York Turkish bath.

An insurance company "private eye," Sam Halpern, of the American Surety Company, had trailed William Jacobs, 47, across Canada to Brooklyn, N. Y., before leading two New York detectives to him in a second avenue bath.

He had $10 in his pockets when arrested.

Swindled 30 Persons
Detroit officials claim Jacobs obtained $110,000 from 30 persons by pretending to have enough influence to get them new automobiles, liquor licenses and other favors.

His wife, Lillian, whom he married in 1935, has pleaded innocent to three larceny counts resulting from alleged forgeries at the American Express Company, Detroit, where she worked 29 years.

Detroit prosecutor James McNally quoted her as saying:

"I did it out of love for my husband."

Jacobs, who gave his address as 2793 Sturdevant street, Detroit, said he ran the Boulevard Bar there, was fingerprinted and held for appearance in Felony Court later today.

Babylonian priests were the bankers of their day, charging interest rates as high as 20 per cent annually.

Miss Jean McCreary Given Appointment

Miss Jean McCreary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. McCreary, of 516 Martin street, who had been serving as assistant Home Economics Extension Worker in Crawford and Venango counties, has been named extension worker in McKean county, and has taken up her duties there.

Miss McCreary graduated from Penn State College last spring, and shortly afterwards was appointed to the position in Crawford and Venango counties, later being advanced to full time worker in McKean county.

Duquesne Light Workers Seeking Increase In Pay

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Demands for a general wage increase will be laid before Duquesne Light company officials today by a committee from the firm's independent labor union.

George L. Mueller, head of the union which called a paralyzing 27-day power strike in Pittsburgh 13 months ago, declined to name the amount of increase sought, but it was generally believed to be a blanket demand of about 12½ per cent for the 3800 members.

Traffic in the port of Boston is second only to New York, in the United States, in value of imports and sea-borne passenger trade.

Business Reaches High Seasonal Mark

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Business in the Pittsburgh district climbed last week to the highest level since Aug. 2, the bureau of business research at the University of Pittsburgh reported today.

The seasonally adjusted index at the end of last week was 197.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

The previous week it was 194.9. Department store sales and new motor car registrations showed the biggest gains of the week, and bank deposits were up 5 per cent, the bureau reported. Coal production increased, while river traffic and the number of furnaces in blast remained unchanged.

Numbers Boss In Pittsburgh Talks

Badly Beaten Up David Johns
Answers Police Questions
In Hospital

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Possibility of further action in Pittsburgh's numbers racket was anticipated today following police questioning of David Johns, numbers boss, who was badly beaten by rival racketeers ten days ago. It was the first time officers had been able to question Johns, who suffered a skull fracture, broken jaw, broken nose, loss of teeth and severe face lacerations in the attack on a downtown street.

Talks Plenty

Police intimidated Johns told them considerably more than the identity of his assailants, but said he would not sign a formal statement detailing his accusations.

Johns identified William Sarkis, a former partner in the numbers racket, as his assailant. He listed William Thomas and Lawrence Nardini as Sarkis' companions. Thomas held Donald Tannhouse, a friend of Johns, to prevent him from interfering in the fight, police said. Nardini drove the getaway car.

The trio already had been arrested. Thomas and Sarkis are being held without bail.

FIVE-DAY-OLD BABY

IS ATTACKED BY RAT

TARENTUM, Pa., Oct. 31.—(INS)—A five-day-old infant girl was recovering today in Allegheny Valley hospital at Tarentum of severe bites about the face and chest inflicted by a huge rat.

Her condition, however, remained serious. The mother, Mrs. Tomer Guthrie of Apollo, said the baby was asleep in its crib at home when the rat attacked it.

Officer Sees Man Swallow Evidence

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Just one big gulp, and the evidence was gone, Lieut. Lawrence

J. Maloney of Pittsburgh's anti-racket squad reported today. Lieut. Maloney said that when he raided an alleged numbers joint the suspect was chewing vigorously on something as he approached. As he neared the man, the latter gulped hard, swallowed, and then asked Maloney what he wanted. The officer said he was of the opinion the suspect had chewed numbers slips and swallowed them. Maloney left—sans prisoner, sans evidence.

Savoia Auxiliary Spaghetti Dinner

Large Crowd Enjoys Festive Program-Dance Following Dinner Thursday Eve

Over 250 members of the Casa Savoia auxiliary members and their friends enjoyed the annual halloween gathering held in the form of a spaghetti dinner, Thursday evening, in the South Mill street hall.

Long tables were nicely arranged for the occasion, with halloween colors predominating. At 6 o'clock, the full course meal was served, prepared in the regular Italian style.

At the close of the serving, an entertaining program was presented, and Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo sang a solo. A trio offered selections including Mrs. Clotilda Ross, Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo and Mrs. Angelina Frasso.

Mrs. Mary Clarone presented the cake, used in the auxiliary's cake walk. President, Mrs. Ida Semione thanked the members for making the party a huge success. Dancing was later enjoyed, to the music of Louis Gaspare and his musicians.

Chairman of the affair, who made the event a huge success was Mrs. Antoinette Ross. Mrs. Marie Domenica Sabelli, was the kitchen chairman, aided by Mrs. Angelina Frasso, Mrs. Clotilda Ross, Mrs. Nancy Brescia, Mrs. Assunta Sabelli and Mrs. Anna Fair.

Mrs. Lucy Lemer was the dining room chairman, aided by Mrs. Viola DeCaprio, Mrs. Josephine Frasso, Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo, Mrs. Barbara Coli, Mrs. Christina Lombardo, Mrs. Vera Puno, Mrs. Rose Tedesco, Mrs. Clara DeMatteo, Mrs. Mafalda Dixon and Mrs. Mary Conti.

HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Emma Smith, aged 68 years, wife of Walter Smith, of R. D. 1, Edenburg, suffered injuries of the head, when she fell and struck her head in a local store, Thursday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock.

She was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she is undergoing treatment.

The United States Department of Agriculture was established in 1889.

'Musical Portraits' Warmly Received

Delightful Evening Of Contemporary Theater Presented By Talented Cast

As personable, engaging and talented a cast as ever appeared here on one stage in one evening Thursday evening presented "Musical Portraits," the first in a series of stage productions to be brought to New Castle during the current season by the Kiwanis club. The production was presented in the George Washington junior high school auditorium before an audience of approximately 400.

The cast of five, Eleanor Warner, soprano; Jack Hurley, tenor; Boris Zlatich, violinist; Janet Lowenstein, danseuse; and Stephanie Novicki, pianist, all young, and as full of zest as of talent and charm, presented a series of miniatures in modern theater style, each featuring the music of a particular composer woven together with a thread of dialogue and acting.

It was to Boris Zlatich for his masterly violin playing, particularly in the "Springtime in Mar-kov" miniature, that the audience gave prolonged applause.

St. Pauls Church To Burn Mortgage

Premiums Total $44,600 For Big State Farm Show

Annual Pennsylvania Farm Show Will Open In Harrisburg
January 12

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Premiums totaling $44,600 were set aside today for exhibitors of prize winning livestock and agricultural produce during the 1947 Pennsylvania Farm Show. The huge indoor farm fair, which annually attracts thousands of food producers to Harrisburg, will be held in the farm show building January 12 to 16. Exhibitors of ribbon-winning livestock will be eligible for the biggest share of the more than 9,000 prizes listed. Cash awards aggregating $10,423 were reserved for dairy cattle while premium totals for other animals were: horses, $3,450; beef cattle, $6,018; sheep, $3,272; and swine, $2,785. Dairy products awards will amount to $202. Prizes for food products were: apples, $1,739; potatoes, $502; corn, $538; small grains, $282; tobacco, $290; nuts, $65; vegetables, $556.50.

maple products, $185; honey products, $633.50. A $8,650 purse was accumulated for general poultry prizes while $580 was reserved for eggs and $88 for dressed turkeys. Fine wool displays will net $190 and $2,346 will be distributed among winners of home economics displays. Awards for contest features amounted to $600, vocational contests; $590, vocational school exhibits; $300, horse pulling contest; $108, 4-H potato grading contest; and $65, horseshoe pitching contest.

Bolt Of Lightning Causes Mine Damage

CARBONDALE, Pa., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Officials of the Hudson Coal company's Coalbrook colliery today estimated damage at $75,000 after a lightning bolt struck a locomotive house last night destroying valuable mining equipment. Four small mine locomotives valued at $15,000 each were destroyed when the bolt fired the wooden structure, it was reported. Lightning also struck several telegraph poles and left carbon-dale without lights for one hour, police said.

Failure To Sign Affidavit Loses Post For CIO Man

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The CIO Utility Workers Union announced today that a member of its executive board has been removed from office because he refused to sign a non-Communist affidavit by the Taft-Hartley law. William Pachler, the union secretary-treasurer, identified the board member as James Daugherty, who represented the organization's region five in California and other western states. Pachler said that Daugherty was removed from office by union President Joseph Fisher after the board member refused to "show up" yesterday at a hearing to determine why he refused to sign the affidavit. The union secretary explained that Fisher acted under a resolution adopted at the CIO convention in Boston "making it compulsory for every officer to sign the non-Communist papers."

Turkey Growers Plea Rejected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—President Truman's food conservation committee Thursday rejected a request by turkey growers for exemption of turkeys from its poultryless Thursday program. The committee said that the request was made by the Turkey Growers Association, which maintained that continued inclusion of the ban on poultry consumption probably will result in increased government purchases to support turkey prices. Committee action was taken at the recommendation of the cabinet food committee, headed by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson. The cabinet food group pointed out that poultryless Thursday already has been modified to provide for consumption of turkeys on Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's, and that no further modification of the program "appears advisable."

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 31.—For the first time in his life Barry Fitzgerald is being thoroughly pampered and petted. And he's getting paid for being spoiled. The genial Irishman, in addition to all his new-found comforts, has two beautiful additional reasons for enjoying a life of ease. The two reasons are Veronica Lake and Joan Caulfield, who are unwillingly serving as Fitzgerald's handmaidens in "The Sainted Sisters." For the past week the two chicks have been obeying Barry's every wish. They serve him breakfast in bed, clean his bachelor abode every day, milk his goats and wash his dirty clothes. Thursday, for example, Barry reported for work at Paramount studios at nine o'clock, immediately donned a long flannel nightgown and climbed into bed. Still in bed thirty minutes later, he was served breakfast by the two damozels. After breakfast he lolled in comfort while they industriously cleaned his house.

Barry Likes It
"Ah, me," murmured Barry when an assistant director aroused him at lunch time. "This is certainly a most enjoyable way of making a living. I think I'll make it a point to have a situation like this in all my pictures." Barry's life of luxury is occasioned by the fact that Veronica and Joan play a couple of confidence women on the "lam" after fleeing an overly-innocent swain of $25,000. They seek refuge in Barry's dilapidated house, but their enforced stay, after he ascertains the truth, winds up with them finding romance and reform instead. The overworked Veronica and Joan plotted in the midst of cooking his four-minute eggs: "Barry might be enjoying himself now, but just wait until we get him in swimming with us later in the picture. He'll be sorry!"

Phone Directory Proposal Aired

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 31.—Considerable resistance has arisen to a proposal by the New Wilmington Telephone Co. to issue a directory independently. It has been the custom of the company to have its list of subscribers included in the New Castle directory.

The proposal has drawn fire from local merchants who believe it would cause delays in service. Attention of the merchants was drawn to the proposal when they were asked to take ads in the directory which would include only the Bedford exchange as the only other listing. The Bedford exchange is owned by the same company. As a rule the temperature is lowest just about sunrise.

Air Force Has Demonstration

Three Day Program Of Air Maneuvers Given At Lawson Field, Georgia

By GEORGE MOISE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LAWSON FIELD, Ga., Oct. 31.—The gravel-crunching doughs from the infantry school showed the air force how the other half lives today with a demonstration of infantry weapons that wound up "operation combine."

The infantry demonstration was designed again to acquaint students from the Air University at Maxwell Field, Ala., with ground weapons, firepower and tactics.

Air Force Program
It followed three days in which the Air Force taught officers from both the Army and the Air Force the basic rules of tactical air power, particularly in support of ground operations.

The Air Force program was climaxed by a demonstration in which air threw the book at an "enemy village" set up at Lei Field, a few miles from Lawson field and Fort Benning.

The air demonstration attended by almost all the ranking brass in the Air Force, was marred by the only serious accident of "operation combine."

Plunges To Death
Lt. Kenneth L. Rector of Jacksonville, Fla., was participating in a dive bombing demonstration when he started to pull out of an almost vertical dive at an altitude of about 300 feet a wing snapped off his plane.

He plunged to his death in full view of 3,000 horrified spectators watching for the parachute that never appeared.

Aside from this one untoward incident, the show was a breath-taking display of air power. In one 22-minute period 13 dive-bombing, strafing and rocket attacks were made on the "enemy" positions in and around the mocked up village.

Spectacular Attack
Most spectacular was the P-80 and P-51 "Napalm" attack. "Napalm" is a mixture of gasoline and oxidized soap, ignited by white phosphorus, and is the standard incendiary adopted by the Air Force.

It creates a terrifying mixture of red flame and black smoke, resembling nothing more than a burning fuel dump.

The Air Force however, couldn't keep the show entirely to itself.

A flight of 12 Fairchild C-82 "Flying Boxcars" brought in a battalion of the famous 82nd Airborne division for an airborne landing, and it went off without a hitch.

Support for the parachute troops was supplied by glider artillery brought in CG-15 gliders towed behind the Flying Boxcars.

Sheet And Tube Plans Expansion

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Directors of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company today had authorized immediate expansion of coke production in the Chicago district, and at the same time declared a special dividend of $1.

Contracts will be awarded as soon as possible for construction of 75 additional coke ovens at the Indiana Harbor plant to increase production by 35,000 tons. The expansion will balance the coke supply with increased pig iron capacity.

The special dividend will be in addition to the regular dividend of $1, and will be paid to stockholders of record of November 19. The directors also elected Leon A. Beeghly of Youngstown to the board, succeeding Frank A. Scott of Mentor, O., resigned.

Finance Officers Planning Sessions At State College

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Local tax policies enunciated in new broad revenue raising powers were expected to crystallize during the annual meeting of municipal finance officers at State College November 15 and 16.

Some of the commonwealth's foremost authorities on local fiscal affairs will discuss successful levies imposed in communities of other states and taxes proposed by pioneering units in Pennsylvania, according to the local government institute.

Proposals of a number of local governments to impose coal taxes and the way levy recommended by Coraopolis officials were scheduled for airing, the institute added.

Chief speakers will be Franklin county Judge Edmund C. Wingerd, of Chambersburg, and Miner Phillips, director of the municipal finance officers association of the United States and Canada.

Protest Seizure Of Big Oil Refinery By Soviets In Austria

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The United States and Great Britain have protested directly to the Kremlin over the seizure by Soviet military authorities of the vast Lobau oil refinery in eastern Austria.

The state department confirmed that two similar notes have been sent to Russia but the contents of the American note were not immediately revealed.

The seizure of the giant refinery capable of refining 300,000 tons daily has been the subject of repeated protests in the Allied control council in Austria. But these complaints have all been rejected by Col. Gen. V. V. Kurasov, Soviet military commander for Austria.

Construction of the refinery was begun by the Germans in 1939. An Austrian company which controlled the industry was jointly owned by the American Socoy-Vacuum Co., and the British Anglo-Saxon Petroleum Co.

The U. S.-British position has been that Russia has no right to appropriate industries in Austria without a joint three-power agreement.

New Castle Tangles With Aliquippa High Indians At Stadium

Hurricane Gunning For Its Eighth Win

Big Lou Zeigler To Replace Charlie Wing At Tackle; Keyes To Start; Locals Favored In AA Tussle But 'Quips May Prove Dangerous Foe.

New Castle's "Red Hurricane" is set to stir up another blow tonight at Taggart Field, a twister that is aimed to make the Aliquippa High Indians wish they had stayed in their tepees along the banks of the Ohio.

On paper, at least, it appears as though the doughty warriors of Phil Bredenbaugh may do just what they figure. They have the guns and the ammunition and their record, compared to that of the valiantes, is like a bright penny beside a lead slug.

However, "Bridey", knowing what happened in the Farrell nightmare, has not spared his charges the hard work this week in preparation for the "Quip invasion. Carl Aschman has a team that has obligingly topped according to the script six times this year, emerging victorious only once (against Butler), but if ever the Indians are to be "hot" this season it is tonight. Nothing would cause louder whoops in the "Quip camp than the scalp of the "Canes.

Good Hit, No Field

To reverse an old baseball axiom and apply it to the grid sport, the Indians are a "good hit, no field" team.

They have consistently ran up yardage and touchdowns this season against all their foes but when the other team gets the ball they prove about as stout defensively as a paper bag.

They have a sweet little passer in Mike Lovra, who can flip "em short and long and is a constant threat. The line has been riddled, though, graduation taking six of the 1946 starters against New Castle, and leaving only Klopovich, a guard.

Wing, DiCola, Gilmore Out

The "Canes will be without the services of John DiCola, guard; Charlie Wing, tackle, and Lou Gilmore, halfback, tonight. All these lads are suffering from injuries—DiCola having been sidelined since the Altoona game.

"Jumbo" Joseph will fill in at the guard spot and big Lou Zeigler, the converted end, will take over Wing's tackle chores. Sammy "Hot Feet" Keyes, the colored will-o-the-wisp, has inherited Gilmore's right half post and is performing quite well. Ask Eric East.

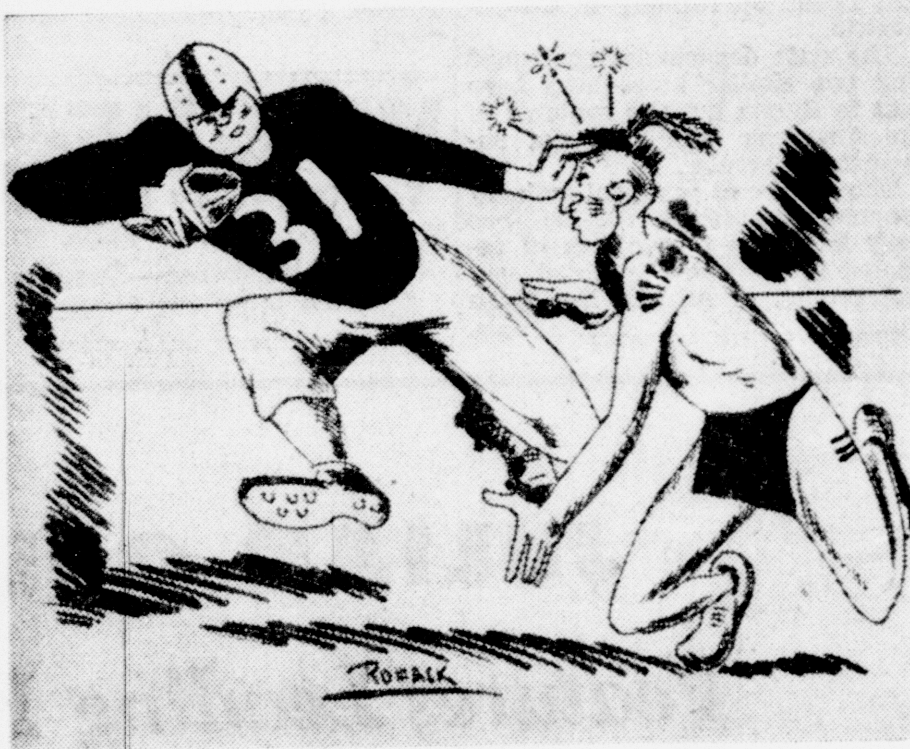

The rest of the lineup will find Rowland and Session at the ends, Tommy Mangino at the other tackle, Jasper Williams, guard; Tony Cialella, center; Paul Cuba, Jr., quarterback; Gene Gribble, left half, and Ralph "Pile-driver" Paolone at full.

Kick-off is set for 8 p. m. If Jupe Pluvius looks the other way, a big crowd is expected to fill the stands.

WILL SHOOT SATURDAY

The Ellwood-Wampum Rod and Gun club will stage a Saturday shoot at the Wampum-Ellwood road range at 1 o'clock, it was announced.

Bears-McKeesport Prepare For Battle

Interest in the Wabash Bears and McKeesport Legionaire game at Union High field Sunday at 2:30 o'clock, is heightening today. Both teams are hard at work in preparing for the tilt. Both teams confident of winning. A large crowd is indicated for the game in the event of nice weather.

The Bears have added several stars to the roster for the remainder of the season.

Roger Craney of the Detroit Tigers has made over 2,700 hits in the major leagues.

Rain Forecast For Ryder Cup Golf Tomorrow

British Players Make Best Showing As Practice Sessions Conclude

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 31.—(INS)—More rain was forecast today as the highest-ranking professional golfers of Britain and America started their last practice rounds before the opening of the Ryder Cup matches tomorrow.

British players made an over-all better showing than the Americans in the semi-final practices yesterday.

The weather bureau forecast a wet finish for a month which has seen more rain fall on Portland than any other October since 1882. The downpours and soggy ground, which have left water standing in some bunkers, have thrown a crimp into the Britons' plans to hit their stride over the Portland golf links in preparation for the first Ryder Cup play since 1937.

The weather bureau also forecast showers for the opening of the matches tomorrow but offered hope of alternate cloudiness and sunshin in the afternoon.

In spite of the wet footing, two pairs of Britons and one of American and British aces practiced for "Scotch Foursome" play tomorrow. No English pair went over par.

Dai Rees, the dark-haired Welshman, and Sam King first lopped three strokes off par for a 69—red-hot under the circumstances. In "Scotch Foursomes" partners take turns hitting the same ball.

Their teammates, Max Faulkner and Jim Adams, duplicated their feat, and Captain Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret of the American team turned in a Yankee 69.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER (INS Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The case of major league baseball vs. Leslie O'Connor is interesting in its implications, even if O'Connor is innocent of wrong-doing as he so vociferously insists.

O'Connor is the vice president and general manager of the Chicago White Sox, who is charged with signing a high school player contrary to baseball law, which seeks to protect students against being kidnaped away from an education through brandishment of contracts from the talent-hustlers.

O'Connor said he won't pay a $500 fine levied by Commissioner Happy Chandler and the commissioner says O'Connor will pay it or be barred until the money is forthcoming.

Similar Rule

Professional football is supposed to have a similar regulation, but apparently only the individual club-owners willingness to abide can make the rule work.

Professional promoters can't wait. This has caused various associations of high schools and colleges to openly charge that the professional promoters—both baseball and football—have raided the campus whenever these latter felt like it.

Jonas Ingram, the former admiral who now is head of the All-America Football Conference, said only recently that his pro football circuit would not sign any more college players before their class had finished.

He asked what the National league would do in this connection. At last reports, the National league had replied by giving Commissioner Ingram a good long view at the back of the neck.

In the case of baseball vs. O'Connor you have a very peculiar situation.

Proud of Legal Mind

O'Connor professes to be one of the best legal minds in baseball and he insists he won't pay the fine levied by Chandler because the player he allegedly signed illegally was not covered by regulations which O'Connor helped to draw up.

Those rules cover only players with schools which are members of the National Federation of High School Associations. Chandler subsequently issued a bulletin saying that the rule covers all high school players and not merely those with association schools. O'Connor says that Chandler's bulletin can't supersede baseball law.

Chandler says it does and O'Connor is out of baseball until he pays up for violating a law which O'Connor himself wrote to cover certain high schools, leaving others as easy prey for the talent-hustlers.

Just how O'Connor can explain a baseball law which protects players who are in schools that are members of the association and does not protect other high schools is eagerly awaited.

The intent of the rule, as generally interpreted, is to prevent the talent-hustlers from picking up kids before they finish their education.

Sanders Puts Mills To Sleep

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Irish Jimmy Sanders, popular Warren, O., welterweight, today had racked up his sixth straight win in Pittsburgh rings with Tommy Mills, New York, the victim of a sixth round technical knockout.

It took Sanders six rounds to get through the defense of the New Yorker, who was content to back-peddle and throw less than a dozen punches. Then the end came quickly. A hard left to the body and a right and left to the head sent Mills down. When he arose at the count of nine, Sanders battered him clear across the ring and had him helpless on the ropes when the referee halted the bout.

Sanders weighed 144, Mills 143. In the six-round semi-final Sammy Mastrean, 141, Pittsburgh, won a rough-and-tumble affair from Arbie Bowie, 136, Aliquippa, Pa. Dick Cunningham, 174, Cleveland, beat Ollie Madison, 174, Homestead, Pa., in another six-rounder.

Business College To Play Sunday

The New Castle Business College football team coached by Frank Greco, J. R. Richardson and Rocky Sebilo will play the Shady-side team at the Washington High field at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, it was announced today. This is the second game for the Business College team having defeated Chewton at Chewton in the opener 12 to 0.

The team was organized by Joseph Vitale, and someday hope to be serious contenders for football honors in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

Expect College Unbeaten Array To Be Thinned

Eight To Lay Unblemished Record On Line; To Clarify Bowl Pictures

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—November will bring a chill to the hearts of several pace-setting football coaches tomorrow. The list of unbeaten elevens is likely to shrink, thereby clarifying the Bowl picture and sectional championship races.

Major teams that will lay unblemished records on the line are Notre Dame, Michigan, Texas, Southern Methodist, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Georgia Tech and Virginia. Also on the spot will be Southern California and Duke, unbeaten but each tied once.

Notre Dame, turning on the heat only when it has to while waiting for Army, is a 21-point favorite over Navy. The Navy team found itself a fortnight ago only to be walloped by Penn last week.

Wolverines Favored

Michigan wants to trim Illinois to assure itself the Big Nine title and a trip to the Rose Bowl. The Wolverines are 10-point favorites to turn the trick.

The Texas-SMU clash may decide the championship of the southwest. The Longhorns are favored by six points.

Southern supremacy is at stake in the Duke-Georgia Tech fracas. Georgia Tech is an eight-point choice.

Penn, eager to avenge last year's upset, is favored to whip Princeton by 20 points. Penn State is given the same margin over Colgate.

Virginia should take Richmond more easily than did Grant.

Other Favorites

Scanning the prevailing point odds, which took such a shellacking last Saturday, it would seem that Columbia should beat Cornell by more than seven points. U. S. C. should down Washington by more than 13½, as quoted.

In the probable upset department, there is California over favored U. C. L. A., Brown over Holy Cross, Tulane over Mississippi State; also Rutgers over Harvard if the Cantabs wind up the choice.

Point odds on other top games follow:

Yale 17 points over Dartmouth. Kansas 27 over Kansas State; Missouri 13 over Nebraska; Minnesota 20 over Pittsburgh; Northwestern 8 over Wisconsin; Indiana 6½ over Ohio State. Also Purdue 6½ over Iowa; Oklahoma 20 over Iowa State; Arkansas 6 over Texas A. & M.; Texas Christian 6 over Baylor; Kentucky 3 over Alabama.

Also Louisiana State 7 over Mississippi; North Carolina 7½ over Tennessee; Vanderbilt 19 over Auburn; and Wake Forest only one point over William and Mary.

CERDAN RAADIK

IN 10-ROUND RING
AT CHICAGO RING

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Marcel Cerdan of France, European champion and a top contender for the world middleweight boxing championship, meets Anton Raadik of Estonia tonight in a 10-round bout at the Chicago Stadium.

More than 12,000 fight fans will see the French fighter make his first Chicago appearance.

Cerdan seeks his 100th victory in 102 battles during a 15-year campaign. In two previous starts in New York he defeated George Abrams and knocked out Harold Green.

CALUMET HORSES

PIMLICO FAVORITES

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 31.—(INS)—More Gold—$25,000—was slated to pour into the bulging coffers of the fabulous Calumet Farm today with the running of the eleventh edition of the Pimlico Special, turf classic in which the winner takes all.

Calumet holds a strong hand with Armed, second leading money winning thoroughbred of the world, and the crack fervent. Armed won the event in 1945.

MIDDIES SET FOR IRISH

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Coach Tom Hamilton and his Navy football squad arrived in Cleveland today for its traditional struggle with Notre Dame in the Stadium tomorrow.

Hamilton said his squad would engage in a light workout in the lakefront bowl this afternoon and go over strategy the rest of the day. The Navy coach wouldn't declare what "strategy" he had up his sleeve, but indications were that Fullback Bill Hawkins will be depended upon to carry the offensive burden for Navy.

Tommy Donovan, hard-running halfback of St. Bonaventure, is the latest member of the married Indian football players to become a father. Donovan, a Pittsfield, Mass., native, has a son, Tom, Jr., born Monday, October 20.

MILLBURN

GRANGE MEETING

The program for the last meeting of Millburn Grange honored Pennsylvania week. Roll call dealt with the resources and products of our state, in which the ten large cities and 67 colleges of the state were mentioned. A biography of William Penn and an account of the origin of Halloween were given by Miss Clara Metzger and Mrs. D. E. Latshaw.

The young people are planning a Halloween party for Thursday evening, October 30. The affair will be a masquerade and suitable refreshments will be served.

MILLBURN NOTES

Miss Geraldine Masters returned to Pittsburgh on Sunday after spending the past week at home on account of illness. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Masters and sons, of Mercer, visited Mr. and Mrs. George Masters Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wagner of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rhodes of Smithton, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Anderson and children attended the silver wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Love of Delaware Grove recently. Mrs. Anderson and children spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Brown, and family in Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Elder and daughter, Martha Grace were Sunday dinner guests in the Anderson home.

B. C. Oakes visited his mother, Mrs. Dora Oakes of Jackson Center on Sunday. Paul Hunt of New Castle called in the Oakes home Sunday. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith was ill over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Woods attended the Clary funeral at Mesopotamia last week. Mr. Woods acting as pallbearer. Mrs. Clary and her sister, Mrs. Strickland, returned with them and on Saturday left for Paterson, N. J., Mrs. Strickland's home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Blumenshine of Youngstown visited Mrs. Boughner and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Williams over the week end. C. A. Blumenshine of Grove City and Andrew Wagner of Sharpsville also called in the Williams home.

David Lukacs attended the Westminster Fellowship conference at the Church of the Covenant in Erie Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. George Weber and Mrs. Paul Woods attended a district meeting of Rebekah lodges held at Grove City Tuesday.

Miss Thelma Perry of Venus is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. C. A. Fink and family. Mrs. Fink and children and Miss Clara Metzger spent Saturday at Venus.

The worm is about due to turn in favor of "Rip" Collins, Louisiana State's ace punter. Collins averaged a respectable 39 yards per boot over the first four games, but the combined opposition averaged—believe it or not—45.1 yards.

Tom Harmon, former Michigan university great and presently of the Los Angeles Rams of the National Pro league is a sports broadcaster.
